WE NOMINATE

Nine able, conscientious Princetonians, who this coming week—on Election Tuesday between the hours of 7:00 a.m. and 8:00 p.m.—will pass in review before their fellow townsmen as the Borough and Township in the sovereign State of New Jersey once again decide upon the qualifications of candidates for local public office. In a Presidential Year, with nation-wide television debates siphoning off the popular interest customarily reserved for local contests, these aspirants for largely unsalaried municipal posts constitute a noteworthy cross-section of the Princeton Community and in many respects represent municipal politics at their inspirational best.

Against the back-drop provided by a free-dealing national campaign, in which the principals have swung enthusiastically but with trifling accuracy, there has been little of a dramatic nature in the local scramble for votes. However, last week's Candidates Meeting, possibly the last in a series sponsored by the League of Women Voters before a disappointing gathering of some 150 persons, produced evidence that Republicans and Democrats alike are taking a hard look at Borough-Township relations and are understandably perturbed by the problems of unprecedented growth.

The Borough race for the councilmanic positions being vacated by two confirmed Democrats, Richard A. Lester and Richard W. Colman Jr., marks the first time in recent memory that four totally inexperienced candidates have sought elective recognition. On the Republican side of the ledger, Dr. Ellwood W. Godfrey, Princeton Hospital radiologist, and Albert A. Austen, Rutgers University Professor of Speech and former Princeton University Faculty member, are facing Gordon T. Waldron, 62-year old businessman and one-year appointee as Borough Tax Collector and Treasurer, and Dr. Robert W. van de Velde, Executive Secreary of the Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs.

In the Republican-dominated Township the pre-election edge rests almost obviously with the municipality's far-visioned (if at times ponderous) Mayor R. Kenneth Fairman, Princeton University's Director of Athletics, who is bracketed with newcomer Maurice F. Healy Jr., son-in-law of Hugh Stott Taylor, president of the Woodrow Wilson Fellowship Foundation. Opposing the G.O.P. are Richard T. Frost, 33-year old political scientist, and Simeon F. Moss, a former teacher here and currently serving in New Jersey's Department of Labor and Industry as a Special Assistant.

Closely allied with the Borough-Township Public Question on the carefully prepared Library Referendum, representing what has been called the most enlightened thinking on both Borough and Township, and the Township's "Raffles Licensing Law," are the qualifications of Stuart Robson, 46-year old head of the "lower school" of Princeton Country Day School. Unopposed for the post of Township Assessor, it is quite likely that Robson, a native of Springfield, Mass., will produce a record-breaking vote—particularly in view of the on-rushing developments of the past several years and the fact that he is once again unopposed for a four-year term.

For their willingness to work long and hard for what they believe are this community's best interests; for asking their constituents to take a lasting, positive interest in local government; for radiating the courage of their deeply held convictions; these men are Town Topics' nominees for

TO THE POLLS

Day of Decision at Hand. In common with millions of voters elsewhere in the nation's 50 states, Princetonians will vote Tuesday for the candidates of their choice. Regardless of the outcome, from the local to the presidential level, Wednesday morning will find numerous personnel changes in offices directly affecting the future of this community. Of those seeking governmental positions in Princeton—as well as the two principal contenders for the right to call the White House home for the next four years—only one is an incumbent.

As early as 7 o'clock Tuesday evening, thousands in this area will begin to turn their attention to radio and television reports on election returns. With the polls elsewhere in the U.S. open as much as three hours later than New Jersey's 8 p.m. closing, it may be past midnight before the final result of the hotly-contested presidential race is known. Here in Princeton, final figures will be available shortly after 9 o'clock; county races for freshman, and the contest for the Fourth District seat in the House of Representatives, as well as the battle for a place in the U.S. Senate, should be settled before midnight.

For Princetonians who wish to chart an early trend in the race between Sen. John F. Kennedy and Vice President Richard M. Nixon, their own State of New Jersey and two immediate

Three Questions on Tuesday

Voters will be asked to consider two public questions in Tuesday's election, while the Township will vote on a third.

● Tax Aid for the elderly. This statewide referendum, if passed, would allow an $800 exemption on the assessed property value of homes owned by persons over 65 if the family income is less than $5,000 a year.

● Joint Free Public Library. Borough and Township voters will decide whether the two municipalities should unite to support and control a joint free public library.

● Township Raffle. As the result of a petition circulated by the Italian-American Sportsmen's Club in the Township, a raffles licensing referendum will appear on the Township ballot. Voters will be asked to legalize raffles only. "Bingo" games are not included.

neighbors, New York and Pennsylvania, will point the way. It is wholly unlikely that either presidential candidate will win without two of these three in his electoral vote column; a firm ability to claim all of them would, on a basis of past political history, mean virtually certain election well before final returns are in from such populous but more distant states as Illinois, Michigan, Texas and California.

The trio of heavily-populated Middle Atlantic States have a far greater electoral vote than any other three contiguous states in the nation. New Jersey's 16, Pennsylvania's 32 and New York's 45 total 93—better than a third of the 269 electoral votes essential to victory. For political analysts, the sign-post symbolized by the trend in these three states is virtually certain to point the way to the final decision.

New Jersey Seen Democratic. Poll-takers and other forecasters are largely assigning New Jersey to the Kennedy camp, after three straight presidential years in which the state went Republican. Expected to turn the tide is the heavy industrial vote, peckmarked by above-average unemployment, and the 39 percent Roman Catholic segment of the state's population.

Estimates of the Democratic majority are running as high as 200,000—about twice as much as Republican claims for Vice President Nixon. Here in Princeton, Democrats are expressing widespread confidence about both New Jersey's place in the electoral column as well as the outcome nationally. Sharp in contrast, many a Republican feels that the eight-year reign of his party in Washington is at an end, and agrees that New Jersey should elect a Democratic President.

Senatorial Race in Doubt. Political opinion is split on the outcome of the race for the Senate seat to which Clifford P. Case was named in 1954. He is generally conceded to be running well ahead of Vice President Nixon, and it is entirely possible that he may win even in the face of Democratic victory at the Presidential level. Two factors support this belief. One is Senator Case's role as a liberal Republican, in which he handily won a primary race last April. His voting record is one that is expected to attract a high percentage of Independents.

Working against Princetonian Thom Lord, the Democratic nominee, is the unusually quiet campaign he has waged, and his personal predilection for avoiding the glare of the political spotlight. In Washington, U. S. News and World Report commented this week:

"Senator Clifford P. Case, Republican, is called virtually certain to win in the election, even if Kennedy carries New Jersey. Some newspapers are proposing that —Continued on Page 2—people split their ballots and vote for Kennedy and Case." This week, The New York Times took such a stand.

Four Other Races. The Democratic incumbent from the Fourth Congressional District, Frank Thompson Jr., is seeking his fourth two-year term in the House, with Trenton lawyer A. Jerome Moore his opponent. In Mercer County races, former Freeholder Joseph S. Holland, Trenton businessman, is the Democratic choice for Sheriff, opposing Republican Clifford L. Case of Titusville, a Trenton business executive, William H. Paley, Democratic incumbent, is opposed for county clerk by Frank C. Ohlinger, a Trenton resident who is an executive with the Tabulating Card Co. of Princeton.

Democrats seeking the two vacancies on the Board of Freeholders are the incumbents, Joseph R. Grunio, and Thomas F. Rhodes. G.O.P. nominees for the positions are George B. Glasco, former County Highway Department employee, and Peter J. de Flessen, Trenton executive. The county has gone Democratic for more than a decade, even in the years that President Eisenhower rolled up huge margins elsewhere in New Jersey.

Here in Princeton, races will be decided for two seats on

Conflicting Figures
Princeton Township, which was credited by the 1960 census with 1539 less inhabitants than the Borough, has 559 more registered voters. It's an odd discrepancy, but it doesn't really mean that Township residents care more about their voting privileges.

Actually, the situation is traceable to the fact that whereas the Federal government counts students as residents of the municipality in which they study, State law does not consider them a part of the permanent population and accordingly will not allow them to vote in New Jersey. The Borough, credited with the student population of the University, Seminary and Choir College, has 11,859 residents and 5276 registered voters. The Township has a population of 10,320 and 5835 eligible voters. Borough registration is 317 higher than a year ago, the Township almost triple that with 551 new voters.

PERSONALITIES
Mrs. Elizabeth O. Clathier, 92 Moore Street, who has retired from the First National Bank after 45 years of service, joining the bank on August 16, 1915, she worked in many different capacities (most recently as manager of the customer securities department) and was cited in the announcement of her retirement for "distinguished service and outstanding ability."

Orville B. Seville, 20 Lafayette Street, Hopewell, who on Monday ended 34 years of association with the Princeton Post Office. Prior to his retirement, 34 years of his service had been as Superintendent of Mails.

ROUND-UP
A motorette, hailed by Republican as a modern version of the old torchlight parade, will proceed down Nassau Street Thursday night about 9:30. Open cars and trucks will carry G.O.P. candidates for all local and county offices, with the motorette expected to include some 200 vehicles and a band.

Both Mischief Night and Halloween were unusually quiet, according to police records, with Monday's steady drizzle no doubt dampening hobgoblin spirits. . . one Wiggins Street apartment landlord reported that a rope had been tied to the handles of doors on opposite sides of a hallway, and since both opened inward, the tenants were in effect locked in until police arrived to cut the cord. . . plenty of windows were soaped, some of them in language so indecent as to dispel all the aura of amusement that goes with light mischief-making.

The Borough plans to introduce an ordinance banning the use of Washington Road to trucks with a gross weight in excess of 10,000 pounds, except those making local deliveries. . . a similar ban has been in effect for several years on Mercer Street and Quaker Road but the heavier traffic on Washington would make enforcement a major problem.

Four pupils of more than 1000 at Princeton High School made the high honor roll for the first marking period: Louisa Cook, Elizabeth Kelley of grade 11; Linda Elatteneberger, Carol Evans of grade 10. . . those below-freezing temperatures lasted through Wednesday last week, but starting Friday, minimum readings have not been below 43. . . Sunday's fluctuation was virtually negligible, with a low of 48 and a high of 54. . . October rainfall finally topped the normal precipitation for the month, reaching 3.86 inches, about 10 percent above average.

ELECTION NEARS...

Final Statements Issued. Borough and Township candidates wound up their campaign statements this week, leaving a long weekend before Tuesday for last-minute canvassing. The Township "administrator" controversy continued to be the subject of argument. Borough Democrats summarized their five-point program, while the Republicans concentrated on the integrity of Princeton's business district.

In discussing the reorganization of the Township administration, Mayor Fairman and Maurice F. Healy Jr. said, "Our Democratic opponents approve of our announced intent to strengthen the administrative procedures and thus permit the Committee to free itself from routine operations and housekeeping functions."

They continued, "This strengthening would be brought about by delegating the necessary responsibility and authority in clearly defined areas to an administrator." If we understand our opponents correctly, they consider it essential to go outside the present staff to fill such a post.

"We are convinced, however, that the interests of the Township, and the efficient functioning of the staff will be better served by delegating the required responsibility and authority to the present Township Clerk-Treasurer. We have observed his comprehensive knowledge, sound judgment and administrative capability."

Boards Efficient. Citing the Democratic charge that the Township "carries on with a bewildering collection of boards, committees, sub-committees and study group after study group," the GOP candidates pointed out that of the seven permanent boards, four are required by law.

In enumerating the remaining three, Mr. Fairman and Mr. Healy declared, "Since the Democrats have taken such great pains to try to identify themselves as initiators of the Recreation Board, we feel safe in assuming they would not eliminate it. The function of the Planning Board is so vital to a community, and the utilization of the Board of Improvement Assessors so common in enlightened municipalities, that there can hardly be an issue concerning their existence."

Democrats Answer. Democratic candidates, Richard Frost and Simon Moss, emphasized the "oppressive burdens of Committee service born of the outmoded system in use at Township Hall" in their closing statement. "The Township must tool up for its future," they continued. "Survival is not enough."

"Each committeeman is required to be both a policymaker and an administrator. And, as everyone knows, day-to-day detail soon corrodes policy formation. Our difficulties with White Pine Lane, Sycamore Road, or our sewer problem in so many parts of the Township are ready examples."

"Our party platform has called for the easy switch to the Administrator plan. The only change is the power to appoint a full-time trained manager who would take over the Committee's heavy administrative workload. The salary for the office is about $10,000, or about one dollar per year for each of us."

Problems Cited. The candidates emphasized the need for "leadership that looks ahead, not behind, if we are to meet the problems of a doubling population, and a tripling and indeed crippling traffic burden, and if we are to keep Princeton the very special community it now is."

against those of tomorrow."
The second pledge is "to foster and extend cooperation and communication between the Borough and Township." "Third," the candidates stated, "we are committed to the concept of 'open government' as it has been implemented by Mayor Male."

In discussing inevitable change in Princeton, Mr. van de Velde declared, "Growth can be channeled and directed, through sound planning, so that the charm and heritage of Princeton will not be destroyed. We must bear in mind what we want Princeton to be like a generation from now—and reject short-sighted solutions."

Mr. van de Velde concluded, "These things can be done if the fifth point in our program is realized — first-class citizenship for all the people of Princeton with participation in local government by all the citizens of Princeton."

Business Community Essential.
Dr. Ellwood W. Goffrey and Albert A. Austen, Republican candidates for Borough Council, stressed the importance of maintaining the integrity of Princeton's business district in their concluding campaign statement. The two men pointed out, "Sixty percent of the Borough tax revenue comes from the business district. Therefore, providing services for the people of the Borough and balancing the budget depends upon a healthy business district."

They cited as concrete proposals, "elimination of obsolete parts of our zoning ordinances, wise planning for future land use and for additional recreational facilities, accessibility of our stores to out-of-town patrons, and expediting local traffic patterns promptly in view of the relocation of College Road."

Make It Fair, Harvard
Must I sit
Again
In the Rain?
—PALMER CANNY WITT

Upward of 35,000 people planning to attend Princeton's biggest home football game of the season Saturday are hoping that Fair Harvard will live up to its name. Last week-end's rain ended before matters became really unpleasant, but Palmer Stadium provided a damp setting.

The Man thought chances for the right kind of football weather were pretty good. Showers are a possibility Friday, he said, but the weekend looks to be fair and seasonably cool.

For further details on where the candidates stand, see page 27 for the Borough Democrats; pages 10 and 19 for the Township Democrats; page 24 for the Borough Republicans, and pages 12 and 32 for the Township Republicans.

"Only a strong business community can give the center of Princeton a good appearance," they continued. "Streets strangled by traffic, parking yards blocked by cars both add to the downgrading of the business area. Through-truck traffic can be taken from our streets only through, wholehearted cooperation with the Township."

"Dynamic, aggressive and responsible leadership," they declared, "must be created or decisions and action will continue to be postponed. Leadership in revitalizing your business community to assure balanced budgets in the future is absolutely our first need."

WHAT'S ON THE AGENDA?
For Township Committee. The possibility that over-night parking may be prohibited on Township streets (as it is on Borough streets) will be mentioned but not discussed thoroughly at the Township Committee meeting to be held Monday at 8 p.m. in Township Hall. Both Township engineer and Township chief of police have recommended the prohibition so that streets may be more easily cleared of snow, stolen cars more easily traced, and so on.

A new fire code based on the 1960 National Fire Underwriters Code will be introduced at Monday's meeting. Committee will also introduce an ordinance appropriating $7,500 for the consulting services of a landscape engineer who will draw up plans for the part of Community Gardens that lies, roughly, behind Township Hall. A new trash and debris ordinance will also be introduced.

Public hearings will be held on the Rosedale Road - Galbreath Drive West sewer and on the acceptance of the part of Overbrook Drive from Broad Ripple to the bridge. The Township engineer, James Breth, the Township clerk, Joseph Nini, and Committeeman Thomas P. Cook were scheduled to accept bids Wednesday for the Fairlee Circle and Rosedale sewers and for Autumn Hill Road paving, and these bids will be acted upon Monday night.

COLLEGE CYCLIST INJURED
On Washington Road, Joel Pensley of 24 Blair Hall, a 19-year-old Princeton University student, was injured Monday evening when he was struck by a car on Washington Road. He was taken to Princeton Hospital where it was reported he suffered a slight concussion, abrasions of the left ear and contusions of the right hip. X-rays later revealed that the hip had not been broken.

Mr. Pensley, riding his bicycle north on Washington Road, was waiting for southbound traffic to pass before making a left turn into a bicycle ramp. As he was stopped on the solid white center line, he was hit by a car driven by Mrs. Helen J. Swartz, 27, of 37 Nassau Place, Princeton Junction, also traveling north.

Mrs. Swartz told police that she had to swerve to miss a parked car and did not see the student until it was too late. The owner of the parked car, Leon Coccomates of Jersey City, was —Continued on Page 10

 To Appear in McCarte, Euripides is one of the script-writers whose copy will be used by Elsa Lanchester when the comedienne appears next Sunday, November 6 at 3 p.m. in her one-woman show, "Elsa Lanchester Censored by Charles Laughton." Tickets for this C-K Production offering are on sale at the University Store or from Box 591, Princeton.

Besides Euripides, Miss Lanchester will delve into Thaenias Wolfe, Geoffrey Chaucer, James Thurber, Sir Osbert Stowell, Gilbert and Sullivan and "others." Miss Lanchester is coming to Princeton on a 34-city tour which began a few weeks ago in Los Angeles.

Appearing with her in McCarte will be the two pianists, Ray Henderson and Don Dellariside.

"EVENING OF FARCE"

This Weekend at McCarte, Three short comedies will be joined under the title, "An Evening of Farce," for this week's APA production at McCarte Theatre. The show will be given Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings, with a matinee performance Saturday afternoon.

Feature of the program will be a new version of Moliere's "Scapin", done by Ellis Rabb, APA artistic director, and director Stephen Porter. Last seen in this country when it was included in the repertory of the Barroatt Company's 1952 tour, "Scapin" is considered one of Moliere's most hilarious plays.

Playing the title role in "Scapin" will be Keene Curtis, who has been seen in a variety of roles at McCarte this Fall. Jacqueline Brookes, who will be remembered for her amusing characterization of the temperamental company in the role of the gypsy, Zerbinette.

The other two plays on the program will be "Box and Cox," a Victorian farce by J. M. Morton, and W. B. Yeats' "The Cat and The Moon." Jack Dodson, Richard Easton and Rosemary Harris will play "Box and Cox," while Tucker Ashworth will be featured in "The Cat and The Moon."

Ticket prices range from $2 to $4.50 for the evening shows and from $1.25 to $3.50 for the Saturday matinee. They are now on sale at McCarte box office, or may be reserved by calling WA 1-8700.

"SEAGULL" OFFERED

In McCarte, The next-to-last offering in the APA "Comedy in the Theatre" series presented to McCarte audiences a wholly absorbing adaptation of Chekhov's "The Seagull," a play that is often gently sad, sometimes ferociously intense and always full of rue and irony.

The young translator-adaptor of "The Seagull," Alex. Szogly, has taken the late 19th-century play and brought it into contemporary focus, exhibiting for us such characters as a writer who talks—and apparently writes—like Somerset Maugham, a smugged young actress who wears off-Broadway black stockings and a second writer who has, among his stock of problems, a splendidly developed Oedipus complex.

Aside from these superficialities, however, it is the qualities of irony and wryness that Szogly emphasizes that bring the "Seagull" so close to the modern point of view. If one considers the aphorism that life is a comedy to the man who thinks, a tragedy to the man who feels, then the young translator and the author stand squarely on the side of celebration, offering us a sad, twilit play which is lifted into comedy only by its use of irony and a kind of macabre humor, and which finds as its only moment of compassion, the almost off-hand action of a doctor in spiriting away a mother so that she will not see her dead son.

Such a play requires for its success the ability of actors and director to convince the audience that Chekhov was right in his belief that the tragic is essentially comic. Ellis Rabb directed his cast in such a way that this concept did not always come across. For example, Mahna the young girl beset by the tragedy of her life, might have projected more strongly the comic aspects of her situation if Eve Roberts, who played the part, had overacted more than she did.

In the end, confronted with an off-stage suicide and a queer, melancholy final curtain, the audience may well have felt that the sad, if not the tragic, elements in life had come across more forcefully than Chekhov's—and Mr. Szogly's—come's irony.

this group of trained and knowledgeable professionals, the "stars" of the company stand out.

Richard Easton as the unstable young writer was superb. Rosemary Harris as the lovely young seagull, wild and free until a stranger with nothing better to do at the moment, destroys her, was equally fine. Dorothy (Dee) Victor played the dangerously forthright actress with such splendid dynamism that the stage seemed lifeless when she was in the wings.

Paul Sparrer as Boris Trigorin was outstanding. (Subscribers will remember him as Shaw's David in "Man and Superman") and Donald Moffat as the perceptive man of science who is almost too detached from the world (Chekhov himself?) was the surprise of the show. Mr. Moffat, whom Princeton audiences saw at Murray Theatre in the summer of 1967, made his first A.P.A. appearance with "The Seagull" and his characterization was a delight to watch. He is a splendid craftsman.

The collection of grey cubes served this production for a set as it has others, with unobtrusive success. Particular mention should be made of the sound effects arrangements for "The Seagull" which brought to the stage most effectively the sounds of a summer night—the crickets, the loons' cry, and the trilling of birds.

MISS NESBITT TO STAR
In A.P.A.'s November 10-12 Show, Miss Cathleen Nesbitt, noted British actress, will join the resident company at McCarter, the Association of Producing Artists, for their production of Wilde's "The Importance of Being Earnest."

Miss Nesbitt will play Lady Bracknell in the play, scheduled for November 10 through 12. Another newcomer to the company for this show will be Frances Sternhagen, who will play Gwendolen. Members of the A.P.A. who will be featured include Rosemary Harris, Richard Easton, Joanna Room, Ellis Reeb and Donald Moffat.

Tickets are now on sale at the McCarter box office or may be obtained by writing P.O. Box 526, Princeton. Telephone reservations may be made by calling WA 1-800. Prices range from $2 to $45 for the evening performance and from $1.25 to $3.50 for the Saturday matinee.

"FATS" TO APPEAR
Domino in Dillon. Fats Domino, will bring his brand of rhythm and blues to Princeton on Saturday, November 19 when he will appear in Dillon Gymnasium under the banner of the Princeton Entertainment Bureau.

The young singer-pianist has sold more than 30 million single records over a ten-period, and he has become known as one of the great exponents of rock 'n' roll. His own songs are "Ain't That A Shame", "Poor Me", "Don't Blame It on Me" and "I'm in Love Again."

Tickets for Fats' performance may be purchased at the Princeton University Store or by mail from the Princeton Entertainment Bureau, Box 591.

THIS CHOOSES COMEDY
For December Production, "The Knight of the Burning Pestle," an Elizabethan farce by Francis Beaumont and John Fletcher, has been chosen as this year's production by the student dramatists at Princeton High School. It will be presented December 9 and 10 in the school auditorium.

To be performed in Elizabethan style, the production will be under the direction of Mrs. William Gannon, PHIS English instructor. Student directors are Monica Knorr and Connie Holl.

Playing leading roles will be Ellen Gray, Lee Hymendinger, Carolyn Smith, Lawrence Hughes, Walter Craig, Tim Keller, Bob Robertson, Robert Fox and Robert Adams. Others in the cast will be Henry Kowalski, Jeffrey Blake, Richard Aaron, Joseph Dierkwyler, David Arcott, David Naistat, Ronald Wilson, William Van Riper, Julia Freeman, Nancy Sullivan, JoAnne McGuinn and Barbara Alden.

INTIME SHOW WELL DONE
But Material Is Difficult. For the first offering of its 40th season Theatre Intime has chosen to explore three complicated abstract plays. Collected under the general title, "Trió," they will be given again this Thursday, Friday and Saturday at 8:30 p.m. at Murray Theatre.

Most of the performers do outstanding jobs with this difficult material, and the production as a whole is quite successful. But plays such as these require the viewer to exert a great deal of effort merely to understand, and reward him with a feeling of despondency rather than enlightenment. While Theatre Intime is to be commended for its effort, a different choice of subject matter would certainly provide better entertainment.

The three plays are "Furgatory," a play fragment by W. B. Yeats, and two one-act works by the French playwright, Arthur Adamov. These are "Professor Torrance," staged previously at —Continued on Page 6

SWEET TOOTH?

Candy is Back. The candies made by Mr. and Mrs. Rasli Medvecky and formerly sold—formerly! like for 12 years—at the Black Lantern are now available at Gene Seal, Florist, where you'll find them among the philodendron and the spathiphyllum.

What'll it be? Well, you may have chocolate covered molasses coconut candy, or turtles or praline with almonds. There are peanut or walnut chews, pecan patties and peanut butter cups. And maple, vanilla, chocolate or chocolate peppermint creams and, of course, chocolate cherries.

Solid chocolate pralines have a nice, melting sound, and French mints are just as good as the pralines. Try a caramel, mint marshmallow fudge, or a piece of plain chocolate fudge. In addition, you may buy sandwich mints and daisy mints for a tea party.

Prices are $1.25 for the mints and the fudge—that's per pound, of course—and $1.80 a pound for the chocolates. The Medveckys use only natural flavorings and ingredients and the finest calories to be found anywhere.

Gene Seal also sells flowers in the same shop at 200 Nassau. This makes 200 Nassau a fine stopping-off place for men with wives to placate for one reason or another. If he brings home five pounds of Medvecky chocolates and a podocarpus Maki, how can you stay mad?

The Maki has as its companion the podocarpus Nagi, one having a narrow leaf than the other. These are mouse-plants from the Orient, a pleasant change from our friend the philodendron.

Of course, philodendron are here, too; in fact, some of the biggest plants you ever saw are now in stock at Gene Seal. These are the giant fellows you put in the floor plan of a modern living-room, or off in a corner somewhere under a spotlight. Philodendron panduriforme is big enough to build a tree-house in, almost. Fiddleleaf is in the same league, and so is the rubber plant.

We rather take to the kangaroo vine, the orange and lemon trees and the Australian silk oak. But the coffee tree has a certain appeal, too. We could keep it in the kitchen. How about a cup?

LET'S DRESS!

What, No Shirt? The Fabric Shop on Chambers Street, bored with Princeton women who wear sweaters and skirts to cocktail parties, has begun a campaign to get the women of this town into something colorful and dashing when the occasion calls for it.

The occasion for the campaign is the nearness of the holiday season and the arrival at the shop of some magnificent pure silk brocade which rustle like anything and look less like a sweater and skirt than anything you know.

One is royal blue with iridescent kelly green flowers embroidered all over it. The same pattern appears in deep mustard gold or cherry red and there is a rose beige with swirls of chrysanthemum petals in the brocade embroidery. All these silks are 50 inches wide, $6.50 a yard.

There are, of course, other brocades for $2.19, including some fine rayon ones with enough body

Salute to Sixteen

The Schwartz Furniture Company in New Brunswick has decided to mark its 16th anniversary this year by reminding Princeton customers of the fine, well-designed and well-made furniture which the store has in well-arranged pretension.

At the moment, "Mediterranean" holds the floor. A Provincial design, this collection has been made of cherry in fruitwood or bisque finishes. There are particularly good pieces in the bedroom which the store has in well-arranged pretension. A six-foot-six bed for people who are six-foot-five (twin headboard) and a splendid chest-on-chest which features sliding shirt trays behind the doors that flank the center drawers. (You may have that bed in ebony with gold posts. If you lead an ebony and gold kind of life.)

In the living-room, Mediterranean has a twin cocktail table consisting of two square tables pushed together, several other tables with parquetry tops and a tufted back sofa built in a sweeping curve.

to stand out to here without a petticoat.

Solid antins come in purple, royal blue, cherry red, Loden green or slate blue. Black and white too, of course. These are 50 inches wide at $2.49 a yard. Solid color pure silks like the champagne bolt, are $5.98 a yard. Silk organzas come in 45-inch widths at $1.98 a yard, with matching taffetas to make into underskirts. More shades and colors than layers in your skirt. If you're young enough to get away with it, buy the nylon eyelid in royal blue or green, with a silver thread outlining each "eye" in the design.

Now for Tuesday morning. The Fabric Shop has wool tweed coats. Continued on Page 9

Howard, and "Recollections," being presented for the first time by Theatre Intime.

Most effective of the group is "Recollections," thanks to the top-notch performances turned in by all three members of the cast. They are so skillful they almost succeed in turning Adamov's symbolic characters into three-dimensional human beings.

Frances Keene Excellent. Frances Keene, from whom Princetonians have come to expect a fine performance, does an excellent job as the mother figure in "Recollections," managing to be charming and frighteningly dominating at the same time. Norbert Stryan gives a sympathetic and convincing portrait of the pathetic Edgar, and Lee Kremer, a sparkling stage personality, makes the ineffectual Louise into a fascinating figure.

Yvett's "Purgatory," a warm and emotional piece compared to the brittle Adamov works, is carried completely and successfully by Blair Butterworth. Mr. Butterworth has a resonant, expressive voice which is well-suited to the character and most effective in putting across Yvett's beautiful prose. He is also a good actor, with a feeling for timing and gestures that keep his virtual monologue from becoming monotonous.

Least effective of the three plays is "Professor Tarnome," due primarily to the miscasting of Brown Miller as the professor. Mr. Miller portrays the lost, dissolving personality with understanding, but his nervous, aimless gestures, combined with his habit of mumbling lines, prevent the development of a clear character.

Other members of the large cast of "Professor Tarnome" perform competently in exceedingly brief roles. Special praise should go to Shuntan Oppenheim,

Critic Cuts the Deal

Town Topics' movie reviewer is indirectly responsible for overruling a distribution firm's policy and making it possible for the prize-winning cartoon, "The Violinist," to be shown at the Garden last week. The cartoon had been scheduled at the suggestion of its motion picture critic, who described it in his review as "unreservedly the funniest and most perfectly produced cartoon we have ever seen."

After the review appeared two weeks ago, Richard W. Knight, the theatre manager, was told by the New York distributor that the short was being provided as a part of a package including "The Savage Eye," and could not be sold separately. "But it's already in the hands of the local paper!" protested Mr. Knight.

The distributor asked Mr. Knight to send him a copy of the review. Mr. Knight did so and the distributor showed it to the producer, who agreed to the exception that made Princeton possibly the only community in the nation to see "The Violinist" in an unaltered show.

whose incisive voice is a welcome relief.

Sets for all three shows capture the moods effectively but are perhaps a bit too noticeable, distracting attention from the actors. Paul Glicker served as director and set designer for the Yvett's play. Josef Fitchett, president of Theatre Intime, directed the Adamov works, and sets for these were designed by Alan Weinstein. Lighting for all three shows was by A. Christine Ginnini. Ralph Emerian was producer.

TIME TO TRY-OUT

For Teen-Age Theatre. Casting has begun for "The Red Shoes," which will be the winter production of The Princeton Children's Theatre. Teenage boys and girls in the Princeton area may try out for parts by calling Mrs. Constance Loaz, the director and producer, at WA 4-5826. Auditions will be arranged by appointment and will be held at 15 Murray Place.

Mrs. Loaz's version of the fairy tale, which has been presented in summer stock and off-Broadway, calls for actors to play the Girl (dancing lead), the Grandfather, Nils a Country Boy, Sebastian the Magician, Dinky the Elf, Beulah the Witch, Toto the Clown and Punch and Judy.

Last season, The Princeton Children's Theatre presented "The Magic Flute," and "Beggars' Boy of Baghdad" in Princeton and in New York.

THE PLAYHOUSE

Inherit The Wind (November 2-8) is a fine film version of the Broadway play based on the 1925 Scopes "monkey trial." The slightly fictionalized story stars Spencer Tracy as Henry Drummond, Clarence Darrow, Frederic March as Matthew Harrison Brady-William Jennings Bryan, and Gene Kelly as E. K. Hornbeck, H. L. Mencken. All three perform with rare insight and complete authority.

The plot, taken directly from the historical incidents, involves a young Tennessee schoolteacher who is brought to trial for teaching Darwinian evolution despite a state law prohibiting the teaching of scientific theories which conflict with a literal interpretation of the Bible. But the real drama has nothing to do with the verdict: no one denies that Scopes (here called Bertram T. Cates and played by Dick York) has violated the law. The stars are the lawyers—Drummond-Darrow who argues that the church has no right to control what is taught in public classrooms; Brady-Bryan who pleads for the supremacy of the Bible. The debate was a high point in American oratory when it occurred, and it makes crackerjack courtroom drama on the screen. There's a little unfortunate symbolism with books at the very end, but this is a minor flaw in a gripping and intelligent picture. Recommended.

All the Fine Young Cannibals (November 9-12) may sound like a sequel to "Suddenly, Last Summer" but it is in fact no more than one of those incredibly weepy purities that Hollywood whips up every now and then as a showcase for young talent! In this case the scriptwriter is presumably a young talent too; he writes with all the maturity and insight of a prolific four-year-old. The young talents on view are Natalie Wood, Robert Wagner, George Hamilton and Susan Kohner. Pearl Bailey is house-mother.

As for the plot: Wagner is a trumpet player who had an unhappy home life. Miss Wood is a blossoming Southern girl who had an unhappy home life and seems to take voyeuristic delight in seeing the scars inflicted on Wagner by his late father. Hamilton, a

And then Miss Bailey dies, apparently from unrequited love. And then . . .

Our favorite capsulization of this film came several months ago, when a trade reviewer noted with evident seriousness that Jeff Alexander's dissident musical score "gives the film an aura of beatnik grandeur." Uh-huh. The young talents, generally behave like young talents, and Miss Wood blossoms with great élan. You can see all this in CinemaScope and color.

THE GARDEN

The Big Chief (November 15) is run-of-the-mill Fernandez: that is to say, funny if sometimes silly stuff. The Gallic comic, who manages to be charming, arch and poignant with one of the world's least promising faces, is cast as a bumbling kidnaper who runs off with a wealthy young Dennis the Menace. The brat makes a shambles of his intricate road to riches and when Fernandez and his partner decide to send him home, they learn that his parents will want a great deal of money to take him back.

It's all based on an O. Henry story, "The Ransom of Red Chief," and it turns out to be a amiable and engaging, French dialogue, English titles.

The Marriage of Figaro (November 7) is the second in the Garden's Fall series of great opera films. The Mozart opera is performed in German with English titles, by the Berlin State Opera.

produced in Argentina, is a beautiful, moving exploration of a young girl's emergence from a fanatically religious home to the gladness and sorrow of the world of love and death. The girl is sensitively portrayed by a lovely actress named Elsa Daniel, who resembles the young Ingrid Bergman. Leopoldo Torre Nilsson's flawless direction enables the film to suggest meanings and impressions far larger than the simple story being told, and this is one of the first marks of a good work of art.

One further asset — and this is not meant facetiously — is that the film runs once an hour and 15 minutes, a high virtue in these days when Hollywood seems to be considering anything taking less than three and a half hours to be a short subject. Recommended.

NEW STUDIO OPENS

At Bamberger's. The Chantry Beauty Salon at Bamberger's has a new service in addition to its usual offerings. A specialist in electrolysis, trained and experienced, is now on hand to offer permanent hair-removal through a new method of short-wave electrolysis.

The new method is said to be faster than old ones, requiring only a fifth of a second to remove an individual hair permanently. In this method, a current is directed through the hair follicle to the papilla, which is the source of the hair's nourishment. The current acts on the papilla so that the hair cannot grow again, and the new process directs the current so rapidly that large areas of hair can be permanently cleared in a very short time.

In the past, most women used electrolysis only for facial hair because it took too long to clear any but the smallest areas. Now however, Bamberger's suggests that you consider electrolysis for even the heaviest growths of arm and leg hair. The specialist who does this work is available for personal consultation without charge. An appointment may be made with her by calling the Chantry Salon at Bamberger's, WA 4-5300.

POLICE ISSUE WARNING

Cyclists Must Obey Laws. As a result of the accident on Washington Road Monday evening, Borough Chief of Police Raymond A. Mondone warned that he will instruct his department to start enforcing laws concerning bicycles and the equipment they carry, especially those dealing with adequate lights and horns or bells.

Each bicycle, the Chief said, must have a white light mounted in front and a red light in the rear, both of which can be seen from a distance of 500 feet. Reflectors and reflector tape alone is not sufficient, he added, since they do not comply with the law. Each must also have a horn audible to 100 feet.

Chief Mondone also reported that he will call a halt to riding bicycles on sidewalks on Nassau Street. Not only is it against a Borough ordinance to do so, but a number of people are being hit at they leave stores, Chief Mondone concluded.

WOMAN INJURED

In Princeton Pike Mishap. Mrs. Elizabeth Beaumont, 19, of 3 Penn Court, Trenton was severely injured when her car collided with another late Friday afternoon in a heavy rain on the Old Princeton Pike, about a half mile from Province Line Road. Three persons in the second car were less seriously injured.

Mrs. Beaumont was taken to Princeton Hospital in the First Aid Unit Ambulance. She was reported in satisfactory condition after suffering head cuts and a fractured pelvis. The driver of the other car, Allen Beach, 26, of 2 Rosette Lane, Lawrence Township, received contusions of the right leg and calf. His wife, Jacquelyn, 26, suffered a sprain to her left ankle and lacerations of the tongue and both knees. Roy Beech, seven-year-old son of the driver, received bruise of the thigh. Another son, Allen Jr., 6, and a daughter, Laura, 4, were uninjured. Police said the accident occurred when Mrs. Beaumont skidded on the wet highway into the path of the Beach automobile. She was driving home from the office of Dr. J. Mercer Rampona of 272 Nassau Street where she is employed.

MAN KILLED AT WORK

At Rocky Hill Quarry. David Solomon, 34, of 47 Wilson Street, Trenton, was killed while working at the Rocky Hill Quarry of the Kingston Trap Rock Company Thursday afternoon when his clothing was caught in the pulley of a heavy duty rock conveyor belt. The victim was jammed against a metal guard of the belt mechanism and died instantly.

The operator of a primary rock crushing machine, Mr. Solomon had been employed by the quarry company for six years. He was the father of three children.

NO PLUMBING AGREEMENT

Township Situation Still Fluid. "This is a problem without handles," observed William Marvel, Township Committeeman on the Board of Health as the Board listened on Thursday night to

"... The challenging revolutionary spirit will demand that the President place himself in the very thick of the fight, that he care passionately about the fate of the people he leads, that he be willing to serve them at the risk of incurring their momentary displeasure. As new problems arise, and as new light is shed on old problems, he will need new ideas and new programs. Some hardship is probably inevitable, but by realizing and accepting our responsibilities, we can convert today's fear of change into hope for a new and brighter future . . ."

members of the Board of Plumber Examiners and representatives of Princeton plumbers discuss the question of licensing fees and the technical plumbing problems connected with fees and inspections.

As a result of the discussion, the Board of the Plumber Examiners and the plumbers' representatives will meet again to solve the technical problems involved and to come to an agreement about a fee scale. When they have reached an agreement, their recommendations will be presented to the Board of Health for final decision.

The Plumber Examiners recommend that the situation remain unchanged; that is, that plumbers pay $25 a year for a license, and after that, pay $2 for the first fixture installed and $1 for each additional fixture in any given job. They also suggest that men not licensed as plumbers—men who install air-conditioners, water-softeners and so on—be licensed at a $35 a year fee and charged $1 per unit installed.

The plumbers would prefer to pay an annual fee of $100 which would cover all jobs done in the Township. They feel that the $2 fee schedule would mean too much bookkeeping.

The Board deferred any discussion of a housing code until they can confer with the health officer of Hamilton Township. The housing code of the Township is under study as a possible model for Princeton Township.

FUND HITS 70 PERCENT
$161,300 Raised. The Princeton United Community Fund has reported a total to date of $161,300 or 70 percent of the $230,000 sought in the 1960 campaign.

The Research Division, under the chairmanship of Robert T. Phipps, reports $44,912. Top position in this Division is held by Opinion Research with 100 percent of all employees giving for the fifth consecutive year. The employee average is $17, and the firm's total is $2,253. The largest contribution in the Research Division has come from RCA with $15,620, which represents 667 employees averaging $17.62 each.

In the business division, Chairman Jack Yeoman reports $32,230. General Devices reports that 13 employees have given an average of $26 each for a total of $338. Prince Chevrolet has given $204, which is a 20 percent increase over 1959. Management Planning reports $368, representing $14 per employee, average. Every employee of this firm has contributed.

The Princeton Herald reports $128, an average of $16 per employee and a 100 percent increase over last year. Farr Hardware reports 100 percent of its employees giving an average of $10. Nassau Interiors has reported $100, and the low firm of Mason, Griffin, Moore and Cook reports eight gifts—100 percent of the firm—totaling $842. The law firm of John McCarthy reports $250.

Frank Taplin, chairman of Special Gifts, has reported $75,500 toward his division's quota of $140,000. Mrs. Percy Cook and Mrs. Alan Carrick in the neighborhood division report $4,028, and Princeton University has a total of $6,600.

fiction or fact ?

Facts YOU Should Know Before
Voting In Princeton Township

DEMOCRATIC ALLEGATIONS

1. Paving of Pretty Brook Road is to be paid for by all Township taxpayers, whereas Sycamore Road was assessed only to property owners abutting the road.
2. The Shopping Center was over-assessed.
3. A Township Committeeman sees no urgency for developing recreational facilities for young people.
4. Most accomplishments claimed by the Township Republicans in the past four or five years were ideas and programs proposed by the Democrats.

REPUBLICAN FACTS

1. Realignment and paving of a section of Pretty Brook Road—necessitated by the construction of the new bridge built by the County—was accomplished at general expense in accordance with the established policy that roads of long standing as public rights of way, such as Herrontown, Mt. Lucas, Snowden Lane and Pretty Brook have always been maintained and improved at general expense.
2. Roads such as Sycamore Road, which at the time had not been accepted by the Township as part of the official road system, are, upon acceptance and development, paved, and assessed to abutting property owners proportional to the benefits received.
2. The re-evaluation assessment of the Shopping Center in 1956 was based on the replacement value. It could not be based on income production as would normally have been the case because the owners would not divulge the statements of earnings of prior years. When the owners of the Center found it to their advantage to reveal them, they did so and thus were able to have the assessment reduced. The only cost to the Township is the interest on the over-collection.
3. The policy of the Township Committee is to acquire the land recommended to be set aside for parks and recreation purposes by the officially adopted Township Master Plan and to develop necessary facilities as finances permit.
4. The statement is without foundation. The consistent endorsement by Township voters of the Republican majority in the Township Committee, proves more surely than can any words, that the voters recognize the constructive Republican authorship of sound ideas and programs.

MORRIS TO EXHIBIT

Painter Will Show Works. Paintings by Dudley Morris will be on exhibit from next Tuesday through November 26 at The Little Gallery on Palmer Square. The Princeton artist will show a comprehensive group of genre landscapes and portraits done in tempera.

Among the pictures to be shown are "Girland and his Coons," "The Bishop and the Cardinal" and "Charm Doctor." Critics of Mr. Morris' work have pointed out that his portraits are the result of a search through memory for a particular face, rather than an accurate representation of that face.

SALE TO BE HELD

By B'nai B'rith. The annual rummage sale of the B'nai B'rith Council will be held next Tuesday and Wednesday from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. in the Princeton News Service building on Witherspoon Street.

Mrs. Arnold Weiss is chairman of the fund-raising project, and her assistants are Mrs. Irwin Gordon, Mrs. Maurice Glickman, Mrs. Alfred Bernhardt, Mrs. Simon Yaffee, Mrs. Marvin Blumenthal, Mrs. Harry Winthrop, Mrs. William Spears, Mrs. William Williams, Mrs. Samuel Cohen and Mrs. Manfred Ross.

CLEE NAMED CHAIRMAN

For March of Dimes. The Rev. Dr. Lester H. Clee, 61 Lindebrook Road, has been named New Jersey State Chairman for the New March of Dimes for the seventh consecutive year. The "March" will be held through January.

Dr. Clee, now serving as interim pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church, was acting president of Bloomfield College and Seminary and for 20 years the minister of the Second Presbyterian Church of New Jersey. He was speaker of the New Jersey Assembly, a member of the State Senate, the state Civil Service Commission and the Board of Parole.

POST 76 TO BE HOST
To County Commanders, Princeton Post 76, American Legion, will be host to past commanders of Mercer County at a dinner party Thursday, November 19, at post headquarters, 35 Mercer Street. About 250 past commanders of the 13 Legion posts in the county have been invited.

Walter M. Riggs, past commander of Post 76, is in charge of the dinner committee. Serving on the host committee are James Whitlow, William J. Birch, D. Don Richards, Norman R. Fowler, Eric H. Jungberg and George F. Cahill.

WOODROW WILSON TOPIC
At Women's College Club. A talk on "The Higher Realism of Woodrow Wilson" will be given Monday at 8:30 p.m. at a meeting of the Women's College Club of Princeton, to be held at the Unitarian Church, Cherry Hill and State Roads. Speaker will be Dr. Arthur Link, professor of history at Princeton University and director of the Woodrow Wilson Papers.

Mrs. Hardy Wickwar and Mrs. William MacCallmont will be hostesses-in-charge at the meeting. Other hostesses are Mrs. Isabella N. Rhoads, Mrs. C. H. Brown, Mrs. M. C. Morgan, Mrs. C. D. Quick, Mrs. F. M. Bowers, Mrs. Frederic Doornick and Mrs. Taylor Fish.

DR. HUBER TO LECTURE
At Design for Living Course. Dr. Richard M. Huber of 39 Wilson Road, educator, historian and author, will lecture at the YMCA's "Design for Living Course" Wednesday evening at 9:30. In his address, "Cross Currents in Education," Dr. Huber will discuss various educational problems.

Assistant Secretary to the Society of American Historians, Dr. Huber has taught in the Departments of History, Politics, English, and Special Program in American Civilization at Princeton University. He is currently completing a history of "the idea of success in America" which will be published next year.

NEW HOURS SET
By Lawrenceville Library. Open to all residents of Lawrence Township, the Lawrenceville Community Library is now open eight hours a week. The new hours are Monday, Tuesday and Thursday, 2 to 4 p.m.; Tuesday, 8 to 9 p.m.; and Saturday, 11 a.m. to 12 noon.

Sponsored by funds from the University Salaries Up

Salary increases for both the faculty and administrative staff at Princeton University have been approved by the board of trustees, effective February 1, 1961. New salary minimums for the faculty will be: Professors, $12,000; associate professors, $9,000; assistant professors, $7,000; and instructors, $6,000.

The trustees also approved "across-the-board" increases for the faculty, also effective February 1, at the annual rate of $500 for professors and associate professors and $250 for assistant professors and instructors. Additional increases will be made, where necessary, to bring all members in the four regular ranks up to the new scale.

Comparable general adjustments will be made in the salaries of non-academic staff members. Details will be announced later.

Lawrenceville PTA, the library has received gifts from the Garden Club and the Women's Club of Lawrenceville, and anticipates further community support. Space has been given rent-free by the Lawrenceville Fire Company.

Mrs. Daniel A. Loughi is chairman of the library. Members of her committee are Mrs. Hugh Samson, Mrs. Robert Miller, Mrs. John Dill, Mrs. Irwin Gordon, Mrs. David Penrose, Mrs. D. O. Johnson, Mrs. William McCarroll and Mrs. Charles E. Connell Jr.

TWO WOMEN TO SPEAK
To Adult School classes. Next Thursday, November 10, two women will give lectures in the Adult School's series on "African Challenge" and "Art and Archeology of the Bible."

Miss Jean-Ali Quatrain, a native of Madagascar and a broadcaster and lecturer with the United Nations, will speak on the women of Africa at 8 p.m. The daughter of Japanese and Indian parents, she grew up among colonial and nationalist leaders of Asia and Africa.

At 9 p.m., Miss Dorothy B. Thompson will speak on the Greek and Roman minor arts as part of the second lecture series. She has been a member of the staff of the Athenian Agora excavations for many years. Tickets to either of the lectures are available at $1.

AFS STUDENTS HONORED

At Reception Sunday. The four foreign students, spending the year in Princeton under the auspices of the American Field Service, were honored Sunday at reception at Princeton High School. Committee hostesses were Mrs. Lyle Fitch, Mrs. Donald Rugg and Mrs. Maurice Kelley.

The four students are Christine Durand from France, Eldrid Kvamen from Norway, Just Andersen from Denmark and Ute Falkenhof from Germany. Their respective hosts are Pauline Cook, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Cook of Kingston; Carol Bortell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul T. Bortell; Michael and Lester Kihn, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kihn of Lawrenceville; and Sharon Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar M. Smith of Hopewell.

Three Schools Involved. Both Miss Kvamen and Miss Falkenhof are attending Princeton High School. Miss Durand is a student at Miss Fitch's, while Mr. Andersen is attending Lawrenceville School.

Welcomed back at the reception were Susan Heitberger and Wilhelmna Reaser, who have been abroad under the Field Service's summer exchange program.

Candidates for 1961. Listed. Blackwell Smith, president of the Princeton AFS chapter, also announced a list of 13 students who are candidates for the 1961 exchange program. From this list, the AFS office in New York City will choose students to go abroad next year.

Candidates from Miss Fitch's School are Judith Adams of Allison Road and Paula Cook of Kingston; Linda Almgren, Southwestern Way; John Bensinger, Washington Road, Penns Neck; Nanci MacHenry, Snowden Lane; Mary F. Mack, Linden Lane; Richard Pearson, Tyson Lane; and Sally Simmons, Beliam Lane, are candidates from Princeton High School. Candidates from Lawrenceville School include John W. Hager and Robert G. Lutz of Princeton.

RUMMAGE SALE NETS $2000
For Princeton Hospital. The Hospital Aid Committee's rummage sale last week netted $2000 for Princeton Hospital, it was announced by Mrs. William Bonthe, treasurer of the committee. The sale is held twice a year.

Vice-president in charge of the sale, Mrs. John W. Brown, and Mrs. Nathan Hoyer, president of the committee, have thanked the Hook and Ladder and Chemical Co. No. 1 for the use of the fire house on Harrison Street. Individuals who brought their contributions directly to the fire house were also thanked, as were all contributors to the sale.

MOTHERS ARE INVITED

To Kindergarten Meeting. The experiences of a child in the kindergarten classroom will be discussed by Charles Lamontagne, principal of Littlebrook School, and Miss Catherine Whyte, school nurse, at a meeting of mothers of kindergarten pupils to be held at Littlebrook school next Wednesday at 3 p.m. in the All-purpose room.

A Program For

PRINCETON TOWNSHIP

1. CONSOLIDATION STUDY NOW

We will initiate at once a thorough, neutral study, in cooperation with Borough officials already pledged to such an inquiry. We will end the halting approach of the current Township Committee, which has produced no plan and no action.

2. TOWNSHIP ADMINISTRATOR

We will take immediate leadership in getting one-fifth of our voters to petition for the Administrator Plan so that the Township may vote on it at the next election. No minor tinkering with the Committee's serious administrative problem will suffice.

3. ACTIVE SUPPORT FOR THE 206 BY-PASS

We will continue our visits to the appropriate state and federal officials who will make this decision. The curious failure of the current Committee to do this only retards Princeton's chances for a higher priority.

4. BALANCED RESIDENTIAL DEVELOPMENT

We will take a good, hard look at fuzzy proposals to bring "light industry" into the Township. If such land-uses will complicate our traffic problems or will not bring a substantial net tax gain, we will reject these proposals.

5. COMPREHENSIVE PROGRAMS OF PLANNING, HEALTH, AND SAFETY

There has been no action on water pollution problems, a full year's delay on school-route sidewalks, continued delay on living space for our teachers and others who should live here, and little response to "problem pockets" such as Overbrook paving, Hillside or Princeton Pike sewers and water. We pledge a get-going program on these matters.

It is Not Difficult to Offer the Platform Published By Our Opponents — You Simply List Township Problems and Say You Are "Pressing Forward" . . . The Issue Is Not the Goals For Princeton Township; We All Agree On Those.

The Issue Is Whether Our Local Leadership Will Tool Up to Achieve Those Goals and Whether They Can Deliver. The Past Record Shows That They Will Not and Cannot.

I'M FOR NIXON AND NIXON'S FOR ME: Mike Smith, age 11, planned a "Coffee Hour for Nixon" so that his friends and neighbors could meet the Republican presidential candidate. That didn't quite work out, but Nixon was so impressed with Mike's enthusiasm that he wrote the boy a letter. The day that Mike received the letter and the autographed picture, he was elected president of the seventh grade at Quarry Street School. His campaign slogan? "I 'Like Mike'" (Alan Richards Photo.)

Topics Of The Town

 Margaret Frederiksen, kindergarten teachers, will be present to answer questions. Mrs. Spencer Spaulding is chairman of the arrangements committee and her assistants are Mrs. Irvin Glassman, Mrs. Edward Kopp, III, Mrs. Stanley Pazdan and Mrs. Kenneth Sternkopf.

NIXON WRITES BOY
Grateful for His Support. When Michael Smith, 11, son of Mr. and Mrs. E.E. Smith of 156 Moore Street, appeared in Republican headquarters with a "Coffee Hour for Nixon" card filled out, campaign workers assumed he was acting as messenger for his mother. But Michael said, not at all, he was going to give the coffee party himself, and invite guests to his home to meet Mr. Nixon in person. He had no doubt that the vice-president would attend.

Princeton Republican workers were so impressed with Michael's zeal that they wrote to the Republican National Committee about their young campaigner, enclosing two drawings which Michael had made of Mr. Nixon. Two weeks later, Mike had a letter and an autographed picture from the Republican candidate, expressing his thanks for Mike's support.

"It is always a pleasure to know a young American who is interested in our government and its elected officials," wrote Mr. Nixon, "I hope you will continue this interest throughout your life, as it is an excellent foundation for good citizenship. I want you to know how grateful I am for your encouragement and that your sort of confidence provides me with help and inspiration during these days of campaigning."

BICYCLE INSPECTION

Sponsored by Borough PTA. The Princeton Borough Parent-Teacher Association sponsored the annual bicycle inspection held last week at Nassau and Witherspoon elementary schools. In the inspection, emphasis was placed on efficient brakes plus instruction in traffic rules and safety.

Approximately 170 bicycles were examined under the supervision of Sgt. Francis J. Maguire of the Borough Police Department. Mrs. George Kennan, chairman of the PTA safety committee, said that children whose bicycles did not pass inspection could bring them to Borough Hall where a member of the police force will inspect it.

In both Nassau and Witherspoon Street schools, Tuesday, election day, has been designated as father's visiting day. Fathers are invited to come at any time during regular school hours to observe daily classroom routine.

A MODERN MYTH: MR. NIXON'S "EXPERIENCE"

The undersigned residents of the Princeton area have bought this space to present the following observations on the presidential campaign and on the conduct of the candidates.

A great effort in imagery has been made by Republican campaign strategists to promote Richard Nixon as a man of "experience" — one whose judgment and background in foreign affairs are supposed to make him ideally suited for the office of the Presidency of the United States.

WE FEEL THAT THE PUBLIC IS UNDER A GRAVE DELUSION IF IT ACCEPTS THIS IMAGE OF NIXON.

What is Nixon's background in foreign affairs?

THE MOST REVEALING ASSESSMENT OF HIS CONTRIBUTIONS TO ADMINISTRATION POLICY COMES FROM NIXON HIMSELF.

It is true that he has made a number of trips. But when asked, during the first television debate, what major proposals grew out of his travels, he pointed to three: "that we increase our exchange programs, particularly as they relate to the exchange of persons, of leaders in the labor field and in the information field," that we set up "a separate inter-American lending agency" and "some recommendations with regard to the Hungarian refugee situation." By any standard Nixon's "major" proposals are weak and unimaginative, and they are hardly relevant in the face of the powerful forces at work in the world today.

PRESIDENT EISENHOWER'S AUGUST, 1960, ASSESSMENT OF

NIXON CAME IN A NEWS CONFERENCE.

Asked about the Vice-President's participation in administration decisions, the President could not supply "an example of a major idea" contributed by Nixon. Given a week or so, the President said, he might think of one. Weeks have passed and not one specific example has been forthcoming.

THE FACT IS THAT NIXON HAS DISPLAYED AN ASTONISHING IGNORANCE OF ADMINISTRATION FOREIGN POLICY.

His declaration of possible United States intervention in Indo-China, his statement on the continuation of U-2 flights after the administration had decided to stop them, his original stand on Quemoy and Matsu which went beyond present U.S. policy and made a "principle" out of islands which the President and Secretary Dulles had, in fact, tried to persuade Chiang Kai-shek to evacuate in 1955 and since, are sufficient demonstration of this fact.

WHATEVER HIS EXPERIENCE NIXON HAS EXHIBITED A FRIGHTENING LACK OF WISDOM.

His failure to recognize or admit that American prestige has been falling despite overwhelming evidence to the contrary is a case in point. He has even tried to stifle debate by implying that it is unpatriotic to discuss administration policy or to question America's power and influence with respect to the USSR. Responsible members of the Republican Party, such as Governor Lockeefeller and Senator Javits, have shown concern over this question despite Nixon's injunction.

NIXON HAS SEEN MUCH BUT HAS UNDERSTOOD LITTLE.

He has travelled around the world meeting all the "right" people — but meeting is not knowing, and namedropping is no substitute for statesmanship. Mr. Nixon denounced Nehru's neutrality but praised Batista's stability; instead of good-will he left ill-will in South America; he thought color TV was the answer to Russian rocket thrust. His behavior has led Walter Lippmann to describe him as "an indecisive man who lacks that inner conviction and self-confidence which are the mark of the natural leader and governor of men."

BY CONTRAST WE HAVE BEEN INCREASINGLY IMPRESSED WITH SENATOR KENNEDY'S JUDGMENT AND BACKGROUND.

We wholeheartedly concur with Walter Lippmann's words in the New York Herald Tribune of October 18, 1960:

"IT HAS BEEN TRULY IMPRESSIVE TO SEE THE PRECISION OF MR. KENNEDY'S MIND, HIS IMMENSE COMMAND OF THE FACTS, HIS INSTINCT FOR THE CRUCIAL POINT, HIS SINGULAR LACK OF DEMAGOGUERY AND SLOGANEERING, HIS INTENSE CONCERN AND INTEREST IN THE SUBJECT ITSELF, THE STABILITY AND STEADFASTNESS OF HIS NERVES AND HIS COOLNESS AND HIS COURAGE, AND THROUGH IT ALL HAVE TRANSPIRED THE RECOGNIZABLE MARKS OF THE MAN WHO, BESIDES BEING HIGHLY TRAINED, IS A NATURAL LEADER, ORGANIZER, AND RULER OF MEN."

With the critical situation facing us, as evidenced most recently by the extraordinary performance at the UN by Khrushchev and his group of Communist satellites, we are faced with two most important and serious questions at the election on November 8. Whether we are Republicans or Democrats, we are all Americans, and we must at this moment think in terms of what is in the best interests of the United States, and in fact of the world, as we go to the polls and make our choice of candidates.

Our first question as voters is this: Do you want to accept the "New Frontier" of Senator Kennedy and the Democratic platform? President Eisenhower said in Philadelphia last Friday: "Of course 'America must move.' But forward—not backward. Not back to inflation—not back to bureaucratic controls—not back to deficit spending, not back to higher taxes and bigger government. "We found all these in 1962. America must continue to go forward with maturity, with judgment, with balance. I see no sense in America galloping in reverse to what has been called called a new frontier."

We suffered before from price controls and wage controls and in the last analysis from currency controls. A welfare state superimposed by the Federal government means all these things and we must know what we are doing before we make our final decision.

FOR ELECTION RESULTS TUESDAY NIGHT CALL TOWN TOPICS WA 4-2200

We Republicans are apposed to the imposition of a welfare state by action of the Federal government. We believe the legitimate raising of our living standards can best be accomplished by the free enterprise system and by insuring a stabilized dollar and every possible protection against a runaway inflation. And why should the accomplishments of the Eisenhower Administration be downgraded in the eyes of the world in order to win an election?

Our second question as voters is this: With the treacherous world situation and our relations with the other countries of the world, which team — the Republican team of Nixon and Lodge, or the Democratic team of Kennedy and Johnson, is best qualified to lead our country in the years that lie immediately ahead?

Our Republican candidate for President, Richard Nixon, has had an intimate connection with the policies of the Republican Party and the development of those policies during all the Eisenhower years. We Republicans have no apology to make for the Eisenhower years.

We look upon them as eight of the most significant and challenging years of our country's history, and we believe those years should be continued in the Administration that we are electing in November. We Republicans, therefore, take the position with confidence and courage that we support Richard Nixon for President and Henry Cabot Lodge for Vice-President; Nixon because of his intimate association with — Continued on Page 26

ROBERT LYON

WA 4-2040 • HI 8-2664

I plan to vote for John F. Kennedy and Lyndon B. Johnson for President and Vice-President because I sincerely believe that they represent the "party that cares".

I think that the 1960 Democratic Platform is the most courageous political document issued by either party within my memory. Kennedy and Johnson are fully committed to the necessities of life in the Platform, which is titled "The Rights of Man". The eight "rights" included in the document are very real to me, as I think they are to every American citizen.

Stated simply, the "rights" are: the right to a job; the right to earn enough money to provide the necessities of life; the right of a farmer to sell what he raises at a profit that will allow him an adequate living; the right of a businessman to trade in an atmosphere of freedom; the right to have a decent home; the right to adequate medical care; the right to a good education; the right to protection from the economic fears of old age, sickness, accidents and unemployment.

Because I am a "small businessman" here in Princeton, I am particularly interested in the section of the platform dealing with the rights of businessmen — and also in Kennedy's record on small business. Senator Kennedy was the co-sponsor of the Small Business Tax Act which eased taxes for small and medium-sized firms. Over the years, Kennedy has worked to see that small business received a fair share of government contracts. It is also in the record that the Senator has supported laws that would increase sources of credit for the small businessman.

The most important thing, of course, about all the "rights" in the Democratic Platform is that the Democratic candidates for President and Vice-President are determined that they shall apply to all the people. I remember very clearly, on the night of the first TV Debate, what Senator Kennedy said about every American enjoying his full constitutional rights — and when it was re-printed in the papers the next day I saved the text of his remarks.

Kennedy said: "If a Negro baby is born, and this is true, also, of Puerto Rican, and of Mexican in some of our cities, he has about one-half as much chance to get through high school as a white baby. He has one-third as much chance to get through college as a white student."

He has about a third as much chance to be a professional man as a white baby, and about half as much chance to own a house. He has about four times as much chance as he will be out of work in his life as the white baby. I think we can do better. I don't want the kind of a white American to go to waste."

I think we can do better, too ... and I think we can do better if Kennedy is elected President of the United States.

Basic to all the rights of man — Continued on Page 26

THE DEBATES DEBATED: Although she isn't too happy about it, Mrs. William Bonthron (left) feels that Kennedy benefited from Nixon's "tactical error" in agreeing to the debates. Mrs. Leonard Hymerling echoes Mrs. Bonthron's belief that the TV debates helped the Senator. For other comments on whether they will affect the outcome of the election, see below. (Staff Photo.)

Question of the Week

Question: Do you feel the Kennedy-Nixon debates will have any effect on the outcome of the election?

Where asked: Nassau Street.

Mrs. William Bonthron, The Great Road, housewife: Definitely. I think Mr. Kennedy's personality came over very strong. Perhaps he got an audience he might not otherwise have gotten. He was able to raise himself up to the level of the Vice-President by debating on an equal footing with him. I'm still going to vote for Nixon but I think the vice-president made a tactical error in agreeing to the debates.

Mrs. Leonard Hymerling, 207 Jefferson Road, housewife: Yes, I do. The most obvious answer to that question is that those who were dubious about Kennedy's youth and experience saw in the debates that Kennedy was very articulate, could think on his feet and was an excellent debater. As a result, that argument lost its validity. The debates have fortified my position for Nixon.

Hubert Evelyn, Hun School, teacher: Yes, the voters have gotten a much more intimate picture of the candidates through the medium of television. The candidates have shown their ability to think clearly and concisely on a variety of topics for which they have no specially prepared answers. Personally, they've strengthened my conviction that Nixon is the best candidate.

James Kelly, 205 Witherspoon Street, graduate student in Oriental studies: Frankly, no. Anyone who has watched them has learned by now that the debates are nothing more than campaign talk and that the real issue is the amount of government influence in the economy of our country. If you want more government influence on our economy, you vote Democratic; if not, you vote Republican.

Mrs. John A. Brenneman, 55 Slatersville Drive, housewife: Yes, I think you get a good insight into the man. It is interesting to watch their tempers and I think they've been shown more on one side than the other. The debates have made me feel stronger for the candidate of my choice.

Mrs. Ben F. Conger, 71 Riverside Drive, teacher: No, I feel that the debates aren't too convincing. They are just another way of talking to the people. Their real campaigning is done over the stage with their own records. They aren't going to be convinced by just one or two debates. They haven't had any influence on me. Nixon and Kennedy will have to stand on their own records and I think a lot of people will feel the same way.

John Lopez, 171 Little Hall, University senior: My opinion has changed since the debates. I originally thought they would help Nixon but I think Kennedy has made a surprisingly strong showing and has displayed a very appealing image. I believe the debates very possibly might swing a lot of voters, particularly the undecided ones, over to Kennedy. I doubt if they will affect those who have strong party affiliations because they're too general for that—they'll just tend to confirm prior convictions.

Mrs. Frank Spitzer, 14 Vandeventer Street, housewife: My feeling is that the debates will tend to confirm the opinions people already have. If one has a preference for one candidate, then one hears what one wants to hear. For people as yet undecided, I think the debates are a tremendous benefit because listening to the two candidates speak spontaneously on the issues, they get a fair and accurate picture of them. The debates have strengthened my preference for Kennedy.

Floyd Young, Princeton Road, Plainsboro, farmer: Well, I'm for Nixon and I think pretty much the same way in spite of the debates. I heard one news commentator on the radio say that supporters of each candidate think their man has come out ahead in the debates. I think they are a good thing, though. It brings the candidates closer to the public. Both have handled themselves pretty nicely and both know what they are talking about.

Mrs. Helen Harden, 142 Mercer Street, housewife: I believe that Nixon hasn't shown up as well on the debates as those who are for him had hoped he would.

E. L. Wilbur, 37 Broadripple Drive, curator of Chemistry Department, Princeton University: It certainly gives the people a chance to compare the two all at once. I think the debates are the best thing that has ever happened. They haven't influenced me because I had already made up my mind but they may have some effect on the undecided voter. I still think they should have one more debate in which the people ask the questions.

Mrs. Barbara White, 371 Mount Lucas Road, domestic: I think the voters will learn more about the important issues but most of them have already made up their minds, anyway. They didn't influence me in any way but I learned more. I really don't think they need four or five debates, as there was a lot of repetition in the last one. Two "great debates" would have been enough.

C. W. Baker, Baytown, Texas, engineer: I think they are a good thing and that being the case, they are bound to have some effect on some of the voters. But I don't think they have too much effect on most of the voters at this stage. They confirmed to me that I had made the right choice: Richard Nixon.

Mrs. Harry Winthrop, 30 Humbert Street, housewife: Yes, I really think they will have an effect. Through the debates, the issues have been made clearer and I think the way the two candidates have expressed themselves has impressed a lot of people. As a matter of fact, I feel that because of these debates many people have changed their minds. They have not caused me to change my mind but they have strengthened my decision.

Leslie Taylor, 19 Lytle Street, waiter: Yes, I think it will have—Continued on Page 28

FOOTBALL CONCERT SET

For Friday Night, The Princeton and Harvard Glee Clubs will present a joint concert, Friday at 8:30 p.m. in Alexander Hall on the University Campus. This will be one of the traditional Football Concert Series.

A feature of the program will be the combined glee clubs singing the colorful "Coronation Song" from the opera "Boris Godunov" by Moussorgsky. With more than 150 voices accompanied by piano, four-horn fanfares to be among the largest sounds ever heard in Alexander Hall.

A new arrangement by Walter Nollner, conductor of the Princeton club, of a dance-song by Hana Leo Hassler will have its premiere performance at the concert. Other features of the Princeton club's program will be a novel by Heinrich Schütz, two Negro spirituals, also arranged by Mr. Nollner, and a speed entitled "To the Tiger."

One of the effective contemporary works for male voices, Bela Bartók's "Five Slovak Folk Songs" will be among those sung by the Harvard Club. Others include two American folk songs, "The Highway Cross" and "The Highway Cross," arranged by Elliot Forbes, conductor of the Harvard Club, and "Cecily Jones," two English madrigals, and the group of Harvard songs called "Harvardiana."

Is the right to live the right to survive. The man who is Chief Executive of this country for the next four years may well be called upon to make decisions that will determine whether or not life as we know it on this planet will continue.

During his years in the Senate, Kennedy has served on a disarmament committee, introduced a bill to create an arms control study group, and worked consistently for the creation of a climate within which disarmament would be feasible. Disarmament, of course, is related to foreign policy. In the last ten years, Senator Kennedy has talked to leaders in twenty nations and has made special efforts to meet with the leaders of the new nations of Africa and Asia.

I firmly believe that if Kennedy and Johnson are elected, the world will take a "new look" at the United States. A young and vigorous administration, make the other nations of the world see America as she really is—a young and vigorous nation, dedicated to the cause of peace.

A Democratic administration in Washington in the coming years could bring an end to government that has let the prestige of this country fall to a level never before reached in its entire history. Kennedy and Johnson, if elected, could do what Franklin D. Roosevelt did in the 30's—lupel fear, dispel distrust, and in quote Senator Kennedy, "get America moving again."

Republican

the Eisenhower policies and their development, and Cabot Lodge because of his close cooperation with the other nations of service at the UN and his hands-on dealing with the Russian menace in the UN Assembly. We need men "who will think first and then act wisely," as the President said in his address.

I urge, therefore, the support not only of the top leaders of our ticket, but our entire group of candidates in this area. This includes Nixon and Lodge for President and Vice-President respectively, the reelection of Clifford Case, our distinguished candidate for the United States Senate, and Jerome Moore, our eminently qualified candidate for Congress from this District. I include also our local Republican candidates.

Senator Case was elected to the Senate six years ago and is now our senior Senator with a record of almost two decades of distinguished public service.

Jerome Moore, our candidate for Congress from this District, is one of our fourteen Congressional candidates from this State whom we are seeking to elect to give Republican strength and support to our next President and Vice President.

Fairman Record "Phenomenal."

To The Editor of TOWN TOPICS:
As one of the present Township Committeemen, I feel that someone should pay a personal tribute to Mayor Fairman for the capable, non-political and devoted service he has rendered to our Township for the past three years. Along with his able running mate, Maurice Healy, he should be returned to office with a resounding vote of thanks!

He has been responsible for the development of a comprehensive road plan, a master sewer plan and a master sidewalk plan; the construction of several major sewer projects; the completion of a multiple housing survey; the successful conclusion of complex negotiations for the acquisition of Community Gardens; the creation of a joint library with the Borough, subject to voter approval; the inauguration of an open space study; and, in order to keep our tax rate steady, the admission of desirable light industry to our community. Even this partial listing of Ken's achievements is little short of phenomenal.

Much of this can be attributed to our Mayor's dedication to his job, his intimate knowledge of the community, and his lack of political motivation. He regards both Republicans and Democrats in the Township Government as part of his team. I do not know of any move he has made for his own political advantage. He shows the utmost consideration and responsiveness to members of the public at Township meetings. It perhaps he errs on the side of deliberateness, this insures that Committee action will not go off "half- With his architectural and engineering background, Ken's experience for the past three years on the Committee and the Planning Board is

(Editor's Note: Intrigued with the fact that there are not two but ten candidates seeking the Presidency of the United States next Tuesday, Robert W. Mangold, 19 Maple Street, has penned this poetic letter to TOWN TOPICS. Whatever the voter's choice, the closing point Mr. Mangold makes is one on which wholehearted agreement should exist.)

To The Editor of TOWN TOPICS:

If Kennedy is the one you back,
Then cast your vote for Senator Jack.

Or maybe you are one who's fixin'
To mark your ballot for Lodge and Nixon.

But don't stop there — there's lots more choice
Of those who seek the President's voice.

There's pastor Decker, who sees his mission
To head the party of Prohibition.

And William Smith, whose amanuensis
Is called the American Beat Concensus.

Or you can vote for Gabriel Green
Who has 70 flying saucers seen.

Or Eric Hass, he's run before
On the Socialist Labor party score.

The Trotskyite Socialist Workers mobs
Present their man, he's Farrell Dobbs.

A party called Texas Constitution
Hopes Charles L. Sullivan is the man you're choosin'.

Another repeater, in campaigning versed,
Is a man named Lar Daly, of America First.

Or consider Krajewski, on the Poor Man's slate,
He comes from Secaucus, in New Jersey state.

Ten choices we show, but that isn't all,
You can write-in a name — say your mother-in-law.

You can vote as you please on Election Day
But please go to vote — you will? — OKAY.

Board and as the Township's chief executive has made him invaluable. He has contributed countless hours of hard work to the welfare of our town, and that work in turn has fitted him uniquely for further service to us. May our appreciation of Mayor Fairman be fully reflected at the polls next Tuesday!

To The Editor of TOWN TOPICS:

Last week, in an advertisement, we noted that one of the Township Committeemen had said in his own campaign for office that we would not need recreational facilities here for 2000 years.

This was in error. What he actually said was, "Until the year 2000, we have adequate facilities."

YOU HAVE A VOTE

In a few days you will have the opportunity of voting for the man whom you feel should be the next President of the United States. You cannot elect him by yourself but along with others you can put him in the White House. A failure to cast your ballot will be not merely a failure to support him; it will be a vote against him.

It is the same with Jesus Christ. If His will is to be done in our town and if His Gospel is to be made known, you must give Him your support. A failure to do so is to throw your weight against Him.

One way to discover His will and to give Him your support is to attend Church regularly. If you do not have a church home, we invite you to attend the American Baptist Church in your community.

something to do with a lot of votes. Each man has explained what he is capable of doing. I think if you put together the way a candidate speaks, the way he answers a question or the way he asks a question, you can come up with who the better man is. I had already made up my mind, so the debates didn't influence me.

Mrs. Arthur Kuckes, 67 Wiggins Street, housewife: Yes, I think television is a medium that reaches so many people that it is bound to help some decide. It is practically as if you are sitting in the same hall—in fact, better because the cameras bring the candidates so close. I think Nixon is talking in a lot of platitudes and saying things that the people want to hear but I hope they are critical enough to know that it is a Kennedy who is saying more specific things and answering a lot more. The debates haven't altered my opinion in any way. If you are predisposed, you see only the good parts of your man in the debates.

Joseph Stonaker, 721 Kingston Road, mason: I think so. The voters learned a lot of things they wouldn't have learned otherwise. They had some influence on me but I had sort of made up my mind from what I had read before. I think there should be a fifth debate because a lot of things haven't been said yet. They should debate more issues concerning this country such as old age insurance rather than devote so much time to things like Quayle and Matsuo.

RICHARD T. FROST

Joint Library Urged.

To The Editor of TOWN TOPICS:

I am afraid that the overconfidence which many express regarding the passage of the Library Referendum will cause some people not to vote on this issue. I am doubly afraid because there may be some kind of unorganized sentiment against a joint library.

For instance, there may be a fear that taxes will increase, even though this referendum is not for the construction of a new plant or the addition of huge expenses to the Library budget. Therefore I urge my fellow citizens in the Borough to assure the passage of the Library Referendum by voting for it. Let's not forget it is there!

The ridiculous extreme would be the establishment of two separate library systems, with duplication of basic books, plant, personnel and insurance costs. The Borough would have to either make up out of its own taxes the $30,000 the Township now contributes or reduce the services radically. This $30,000 represents almost one half of the Borough Library's budget.

The Library would also lose a great deal in state aid. In fact this situation would be a case of two half-sized libraries both doing half of the necessary job—unfortunately the same half.

At the moment the Township is only giving partial support to the Borough Library. If the Township started contributing towards our library the $14,028 it paid to the Mercer County Library in 1960, service for both the Borough and the Township would be improved.

This is the case because the cost of the Mercer County Library to the Township has been $75.5 cents per book, whereas the Borough has only cost 35 cents per book. Therefore, the transferred fund of $14,028 would handle 2.5 times as much circulation or perhaps expand the service of our library in some needed way.

The time for us to blush a little has arrived. We of this community should be ashamed. Our lack of support for the public library ideas has produced an inadequate institution in spite of the great efforts of a wonderful professional staff.

DAVID E. HOGENAUER

First-Class Library Needed.

To The Editor of TOWN TOPICS:

We in Princeton have just completed a successful observance of United Nations week. Now the time is at hand, Tuesday, November 8, for voters in Princeton Borough and Township to unite in support of a local proposal to strengthen the Public Library foundation stone of our type of cultural democracy.

In the excitement and verbosity of the political campaign, this cogent argument by James A. Perkins of 256 Edgerstown Road in favor of the bipartisan proposal should not be lost.

"Princeton must have one first-class library. The referendum, if approved, will assure one library for the community jointly owned and supported" (in proportion to use) by the Borough and the Township, and offering the possibility of improved services with a more efficient return on the tax dollar.

"The gains for both Borough and Township are easy to demonstrate. A library supported by Borough resources alone will place a low ceiling on the library services the Borough can command."

"For the Township it would certainly be more economical to put its dollars into a joint library than into rentals from the County Library. I am told that it currently costs Township residents $75.5 cents to read a book from the County and only 35 cents to read one from the Princeton Public Library."

"On all three counts—the prospects for improved library services, the hard cold facts of the increased return on the tax dollar, and the promotion of an important community project—this referendum should receive our full support."

CLIMAX AT HAND

And Titles in Sight. As November arrived, three developments on the Princeton football scene dominated the 1960 picture: First, and by far the most pleasing, was the vast improvement already achieved over the previous season—in the face of numerous forecasts that the Tigers would be lucky to do as well as last year's 4-5 mark and fifth-place Ivy finish. Before October had ended, the 5-1 record assured Princeton of topping the .500 mark, no matter what befell it in November.

If the Orange and Black defeats Harvard on Saturday, it is assured of at least a second-place finish in the Ivy standings. That, too, is far more than any preseason estimates of the first Princeton ranking held possible.

On the other side of the scales, however, are two factors weighing against the Tigers in post-

Ivy League Forecast

Yale over Penn. Elis won't blow this one.

Dartmouth over Columbia. Indians have better line.

Brown over Cornell. Red coming apart at the seams.

tially dangerous fashion. Either one could undo all the benefit accruing from the devastating offense the team has produced in rolling to five straight triumphs. Most serious of the two weaknesses is the porous defense that has been yielding touchdowns at an alarming rate. In fact, ever since a Penn team still seeking to learn the intricacies of the single wing was blanked, Princeton has given up an average of three touchdowns-plus to Colgate, Cornell and Brown. None of these teams can hold a candle to Yale's offensive power, or probably to Harvard's if the injured Charlie Ravelen is on hand to lose the Crimson.

A secondary problem causing some concern is the inability of Tiger backs to keep from fumbling. To the seven they dropped in the Cornell game, the ball carriers added three more last weekend in the 54-21 rout of Brown. Again, any solid offense can be ground to a complete halt by inability to hang on to the ball.

Harvard Still Below Par. Expectations are that Harvard will take the field without Ravelen, the highly-capable quarterback whose poise and ability had played a large part in installing the Crimson as pre-season favorite for the Ivy title. He suffered a severe knee strain in the second game of the season, has seen no contact since and is unlikely to play here Saturday.

In addition, three key players left last week's Penn game by injuries. Captain Terry Lenzner, a standout guard, also hurt a knee, while halfbacks Bruce MacIntyre and Larry Repsher were others removed from action with the Quakers. Crimson hopes are that all three will be ready for Saturday's invasion of Palmer Stadium.

A 175-lb. junior, Ted Halaby, has taken over Ravelen's role at quarterback. MacIntyre is a triple-threat at one of the half-back posts, and handles the punting chores with solid ability. Holie Armstrong is a sophomore running flash; Glenn Houghie, Tom Boone and Barry O'Keefe are other principal ball carriers in Coach John Yovicsin's version of the T.

Harvard operates out of a slot formation, using flankers and split ends. The spinning quarterback in the person of Ravelen, featuring the inside and outside ride series, made the Crimson attack go without him. Harvard was blanked by Cornell and has scored only a single touchdown against each of Columbia, Dartmouth and Penn. However, an adamant Cantab defense made the few points stand up, and Harvard comes into Saturday's game with a 3-1 Ivy mark and a firm chance to stay in the running if

BROWN RUN RAGGED

But Tiger Defense Bogs Down. Fifty-four points probably never lost a football game, and Princeton was never close to losing against Brown in Palmer Stadium. Nonetheless, the manner in which the Tigers consistently fell victim to the visitors' draw plays and delayed cross bucks was cause for considerable concern.

In all, the Bruins' presumably weak attack rolled for 289 yards, 16 first downs and 21 points. The latter figure was more than Brown had totaled in its four previous Ivy games—in fact, the losers went into the fourth contest of their season before they crossed any one's goal line.

WE Congratulate

HUGH SCOTT Princeton Tailback

The Ivy League has a new leader in total offense this week, a slightly-built, 172-lb. tailback who hunk himself into a group of blockers as if he were 300 pounds heavier, "Hugh Scott," they'll tell you in Palmer Stadium, "will always get you an extra couple of yards on sheer effort."

Although he has participated in less plays than any of his closest competitors, largely because he has such a highly capable alternate in Jack Sullivan, Scott ranks at the top because his average output is greater. In 57 efforts, he has carried the ball for a total of 308 yards, an average just under six yards per carry. Of 22 aerial attempts, he has completed 15 for 224 yards—a fabulous average of almost 15 yards per completion. The total of 533 yards has him comfortably ahead of his nearest competitor, Columbia's Tim Vassoli, who has one less Ivy game in play in the next three weeks.

Scott's performance against Brown, a team familiar to Princeton fans, was typical of the degree of effort he invariably puts forth. He gained 82 yards running, completed seven of eight passes for an additional 109 yards, scored twice and passed for two more touchdowns. That kind of afternoon won him "Ivy Back-of-the-Week" honors, as well as a place on the weekly All-East team compiled after last Saturday's games.

A resident of Wellesley, Mass., Scotty is a two-sport star who has won his letter for the past two years in hockey. Princetonians like to think of him as an athlete who "got away" from their Big Three rivals—his father went to Yale and his grandfather to Harvard.

Scotty's fine season is no surprise—for the past two years, he has led the Tigers in total offense and in scoring. This year his increasingly fine performance have spearheaded the best offense Princeton football fans have watched since the unbeaten teams of 1950 and 1951. As the drive for the Ivy championship reaches its climax, these extra yards that Scott produces through sheer effort will be a mighty valuable asset to the title-hunting Tigers.

In a league composed of eight teams as closely matched as the Ivies are, virtually any type of upset is possible. Certainly a hard victory on Saturday can occur, although the probability is lessened to a considerable degree by Haven's continuing injury.

If he is out, a wet field would be the Tigers' greatest problem. Given a dry day, their well polished offense is likely to prevail by a satisfactory margin.

If they continue to produce touchdowns in quantities of three or four per game, the development to watch will be their ability to contain a Harvard offense that has averaged only 5.1 points in its last four games. Harvard's ability to score two or three times Saturday—even while losing—could spell real trouble for Princeton in the Yale Bowl a week hence.

A predetermined plan to rush the Brown passer was cited as the reason for the numerous traps into which Princeton linemen fell. In effect, they gave up more than they gained by this constant pressure on the passer; Brown was held to 65 yards in the air, well below his season's average, but the 201 yards and three touchdowns picked up on the ground by the Ivy League's last-place team led doubt about the Tigers' defensive ability with the climactic November games at hand.

A year ago, Princeton was shut-out by Harvard (1-0) and held to a lone touchdown by Dartmouth, losing 12-7. Whatever happens in the weeks ahead, it would seem that the Tigers are likely to score at least twice in each of their remaining games.

The 54 points they rang up against Brown increased their average during their five-game winning streak to 56 points, a fabulous output unmatched here since the unbeaten teams of 1950 and 51. Best development of the latest victory was the balance the attack achieved—265 yards running and 171 passing. Brightest note for the future is the rapid development of backfield depth—in the past fortnight, solid contributions have been received from fullback Brewster Loud, tailback Roger Hoyt, quarter back Jim Hagstrom and wingback John MacMurray.

Tigers Score in a Hurry. Saturday's game was barely three minutes old before the Tigers outlined the shape of things to come with a 55-yard touchdown in just two plays. Jack Sullivan blazed around right end from the double wingback formation behind solid blocks thrown by Captain Don Kornmunt and quarterback John Henrich. He reached the ten before being pushed out of bounds. Kornmunt then split the middle on a delayed back that took him into the end zone, earning a fast group rating from the coaches for his effort when the 51m of the game was reviewed and the Tigers were literally off to the races.

They led 14-0 after one period, were pared to leads of 14-7 and 21-17 before getting their fourth TD, with 19 seconds left in the half. From a 27-14 margin, they broke the game open, showing over three touchdowns in the final 15 minutes of play. The scoring summary showed Kornmunt and Scott both with two touchdowns, High at 2. The game, the sixth for each team, will be played at Long Branch.

"They're big and they're tough; they're always tough," is the way PHS coach Joe Jingoli described the coastal eleven. "I wouldn't even attempt to predict the outcome of this one — there are too many intangibles in football, you just never know what will happen."

Jingoli's guerdness notwithstanding, the Blue and White is finally rounding into shape. For the first time since the season started, the team will be at full strength. During the past week, the PHS coach reported, the team has been trying to improve its running and passing, while the defensive coaches Jerry Croninger and George Povallakis have been working hard with the defensive unit.

The contest will probably be as close as last year's thriller between these two. In its best team effort of the season, underdog FS matched the visiting Green Wave in touchdowns two for two, and then took home all the marbles when Howard could successfully converted twice to give PHS a 14-12 victory.

This season, Long Branch, defending Shore Conference A Division champions, has found the going pretty rugged, winning two and losing three. Its two victories have come at the expense of Freehold and Middletown Township. The Little Tigers, in turn, after winning their first three outings, lost to Trenton High and tied Trenton Catholic to fall off in some measure, too. Two of the three wins have also been over Freehold and Middletown Township.

HUN TO OPPOSE FINGRY

At Elizabethtown, The Hun football team will meet the second new opponent on its schedule this year when it tangles with unbeaten, once tied Fingry School Friday at Elizabethtown.

Victorious in its first four games, Fingry, which tied a strong Peddie eleven, 20-20 in its last outing, will be a big obstacle in the path of Hun which is seeking its fourth win. "In playing Fingry, we will be stepping out of our class," said Hun coach Hawley Waterman. "They'll be the favorite, so we've got nothing to lose going all out to win." he added, declining to predict the outcome.

Hallbacks Gary Grover and Sandy Blain and end John Stewart each scored once as the Red and Black captured its third victory on Saturday, blanking Friends Central, 20-0. The win, gained on Hun's home field, resembled its other triumphs in that all three have been shutouts. Hun has lost twice.

First Half Decides. The home team wrapped it up in the first half when it scored all its points. Early in the opening period Grover took a piffling from quarterback Tim Walsh, circled end, and galloped down field 50 yards to score. The key block was thrown by Paul Savidge.

In the second quarter, junior halfback Sandy Blain who, according to coach Waterman, is destined to become a member of the varsity backfield "any minute," tallied Hun's second key pointer on a 40-yard scoring romp. Walsh ran the PAT to increase the score to 14-0. The last TD came on a 15-yard pass from Walsh to Stewart, the play covering 45 yards.

For the remaining two quarters,

Harvard-Princeton Weekend

No less than five Harvard-Princeton contests have been scheduled for the coming weekend.

Starting at 10:30 Saturday morning on the athletic fields east of Baker Rink, the freshman and varsity soccer teams will play host to their Crimson counterparts. With Jimmy Rivers' Ivy League entry teaming to make Harvard its fifth straight victory. Brown was beaten last Saturday, 3-1.

Harvard's junior varsity football team will play the Princeton Juvvies at 11, with the freshman meeting at 12. A 150-lb. football game between Princeton and Columbia at 11:30 will also precede the varsity football game between Harvard and Princeton in Palmer Stadium, which has a 1:30 kickoff.

Waterman played his second and third teams. Instructed to maintain Hun's three-touchdown cushion, the reserves not only did but twice drove inside the losers' 15. Doug Kirk and Blain did most of the gaining for Hun in these drives.

LARRIES GO FOR 19

Against Choate Saturday. Lawrenceville School's football team will put its streak of 16 games without a loss on the line Saturday when the Larries take on Choate School in their last home game of the season.

Adding two touchdowns in the final period, Lawrenceville rolled to an 18-0 victory over Mercersburg Academy last week at Mercersburg. Bob Legler scored twice on one-yard plunges and William Pfeiffer ran 35 yards to paydirt to lead the Lawrenceville attack.

The Larries gained 268 yards rushing and added 35 more on their line pass completion in ten attempts. Mercersburg went 168 yards along the ground and 102 yards through the air, completing five of 22 passes.

Lawrenceville will close out its season on November 12 against the traditional rival, Hill School. The game will be played at Pottstown, Pa.

REEDER WINS

In Sunday Dinghy Racing. John Reeder won Sunday's Penguin Class dinghy racing on Lake Carnegie, with Bob Ervelin serving as his crew. In a steady 15-knot easterly wind, Reeder scored two firsts, two seconds, a third and a fourth to compile a 23-1-point total.

PRINCETON FAIR WINS
Round Robin Tournament. Mrs. Michael Ramey of 945 Princeton-Kingston Road, and Mrs. Simeon Hutner of 28 Hibben Road won the Princeton Women's Round Robin Tennis Tournament by taking 19 out of 20 matches. Seventeen teams from Princeton and surrounding towns were entered.

The tournament, which is open to all women interested in playing tennis, was held from May through October. Most of the matches were played on the University Courts. This is the first year the Tournament was staged; those interested in participating next year should notify Mrs. Dorothy Katz of 252 Mt. Rose Pennington Road, Pennington.

BOWLING NOTES

Kase Kleisner on Top Spot. Kase Kleisner (32) continued to hang on to a slim margin over Decker's Dairy (29) in the "A" League to highlight Princeton bowling action last week. Nelson Glass and Shelton Motors No. 1 were tied for third place with 28 points each. However, Grover Lumber (25) has three games to make up and wins could put them only half a game off the pace. Walker Gordon (40) led the "B" loop by three games over Sportsman No. 1, with Tiger Bus (31) and Prince Laundry (30) in the next two positions.

Five teams in the six-team Industrial League were within two — Continued on Page 32

Report from THE MAYOR

Youngsters Star. The past week in Princeton was notable for the large number of youngsters participating in community affairs and demonstrating their readiness to take active roles in local, state, national and even international affairs. In the front, the Boy Scouts should be commended for their special effort in reminding us of the opportunity and responsibility of voting on Tuesday, November 8.

Get Out the Vote. campaign. Scouts went door to door with an effective door-to-door reminder of the forthcoming election. America's voting record—expressed as a percentage of eligible voters who actually go to the polls—has not been impressive, even in Presidential election years, when compared with the turnout and interest in other free countries which have the privilege of free elections. The Boy Scouts have done a great service in helping to job our consciences in this respect.

UNICE. The many Princeton teenagers and young people who took time to solicit for the United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund should also be commended. The money raised here will probably be taken to the United Nations in New York by some of the boys and girls who worked so hard to make this important drive a success.

It has been reported that in past years, New Jersey's contributions to UNICEF have been the greatest of any state in the union. This year's efforts will probably keep that record intact. More importantly, the dollars will underwrite life-saving medicines and other vital services to youth in underdeveloped areas of the world. The dividends are incalculable.

"Gunning For Your Job." Another group of youngsters who merit special mention this week are the boys who represented Princeton in the American Legion-sponsored Boys State convention this past year. They presented effective and exciting summary reports of their activities at a meeting of Princeton Post 76 last Wednesday night. The Mayor was asked to speak after Chairman Bill Zwicker had commented, "Mayor, I think these boys are gunning for your job!" Actually, the Mayor sincerely hopes that these boys, and others like them, will be "gunning" for the opportunity to serve in public office.

That is, indeed, one of the reasons for a program such as Boys State. Those interested in political endeavor, regardless of party persuasion, will testify to the need to interest dedicated men and women in the important business of government, especially at the local level.

All of Princeton would have been proud to hear the reports of Princeton boys who have tried their hand at this and who represent the future raw material of public service.

An Appraisal. A dozen members of Chairman MacClanahan's committee met on Sunday evening to evaluate the United Nations week celebration in Princeton. There was much to be proud of in their ventures.

On the schedule is another session a meeting on November 20 to ask the important question, "Where do we go from here?" Probably in the offing: a continuing committee to work on the possibilities of Princeton's contribution to world peace.

Tell it to the Mayor! The regular weekly open house session will be held on Friday, November 4, and Friday, November 11, from 7 to 10 p.m., at Borough Hall. No appointment is ever necessary for these informal meetings.

Also on this week's schedule: an important meeting of the Planning Board with consultant planning, Dodd McLaughlin, discussing and discussing another heavy decision—bordered with questions and recommendations affecting Princeton's future. Now that the factual data have been collected and the recommendations of the planner spelled out in some detail, next steps will include appointment of an advisory committee of citizens to review the findings and to work with the Planning Board and with Mayor and Council toward updating the Borough's master plan and revising the zoning ordinance. Also involved are value judgments on a host of ideas about future development, or more accurately, redevelopment, of the Borough.

games of each other after last week's action. Nassau Service and Tiger Garage were tied for first with 28 points; Nassau Del and Parsa Lab Supply had 26 each; and the Reformers were fifth with 21. Physics was on top in the Faculty League with 24 points, followed by C Operations (22) and SMAGW (18). In women's bowling, Nassau Bowling led the Women's League with 37 points, a game ahead of Craft Cleaners and three points ahead of Amnon Homes and Cranbury Bank.

Phil Weiss rolled the high individual game of the week with a 231 in the Industrial League. Other notable scores included Wally Brown, 223; Walt Wondryn, 222; Bill Klefer, 209; and Dick Edwards, 206, in the Industrial boy; Bob Treacy, 216-200, and John Holler, 200, in the Faculty League; and Russ Sulphina, 202; Vince Pirano, 200; and Jack Lacey, 200, in the "B" hoop.

Also, Charles Perpetua, 216; Frank Cawley, 202-214; Bill Van Kirk, 207; Ed Pfeiffer, 205; and Noel Crane, 200, in the "A" League. Doris Van Kirk topped the Women's League with 192-211; followed by Thelma Forman, 181; Vera Buchele, 180; and Marilyn Lower, 172.

BAZAAR PLANNED
By Order of Eastern Star, A Christmas bazaar will be held next Friday, November 11, by Princeton Chapter No. 91, Order of the Eastern Star. The all-day event will begin at 9 a.m. in the Second Presbyterian Church. Lunch will be served at noon, and coffee will be available all day.

Mrs. Milo L. Wedlin is chairman of the bazaar. The committee chairman are: Mrs. T. Guy Wittington, planner; Mrs. James Cooper and Miss Lois Cooper, crafts; Mrs. Garrett Cordouy, apron; Mrs. Alfred Rozas, food; Mrs. Edward Lloyd, white elephant; and Mrs. H. C. Mernagh, gifts.

POSTER WINNERS NAMED

In UN Contest. Twelve boys and girls in Princeton schools won prizes in the United Nations poster contest.

First place winners in each class will receive trophies and other winners will receive reproductions of historic American documents. Samuel McDowell, art teacher at Princeton High School, was judge. Students from the Borough and from Princeton, West Windsor and Montgomery Townships competed.

These are the winners: Class I (7th grade and up): David Edgington, Blawenburg, Princeton High School, first prize; Paula Vannella, West Windsor, Princeton High School, second prize; Thomasena Caldwell, West Windsor, Dutch Neck School.

Class II (5th and 6th grades): Richard Smith, Belle Meade, Montgomery Township School, first prize; Ellen Hornig, Lake Road, Nassau Street School, second prize; Ronald Scullin, Kingston, Nassau Street School, third prize.

Class III (4th grade): Melkory Johnson, 41 Clay Street, Nassau Street School, first prize; Olga Savitsky, 58 William Street, Nassau Street School, second prize; Helen Carroll, 77 Jefferson Road, Nassau Street School, third prize.

Class IV (lower three grades): Kyle McGrath, 13 Olden Avenue, Nassau Street School, first prize; Charles Ashton, 60 Harriet Drive, Nassau Street School.

DIABETES TEST URGED

For Adult Residents. All adult residents of Princeton Township are being urged by Mrs. Marcelle C. Farley, health officer, to participate in the Diabetes Detection Campaign to help November 13 through 19. A detection kit, which can be used in the privacy of one's home, will be available that week at the Health Office in Township Hall. Residents are asked to obtain a kit, take the test, and mail the results to the Board of Health, which will then advise the sender whether the results are positive or negative.

Mrs. Farley said that it is estimated that one person in every hundred is suffering from undetected diabetes, and that the disease can cause great damage unless regular medical care is received.

"KNOW SOUTH BRUNSWICK"

League Publishes Booklet. An eight-page circular containing biographies of state, county, local and congressional candidates and their campaign statements has been published by the League of Women Voters of South Brunswick.

Information, provided by the candidates themselves, was requested, collated and published under the direction of Mrs. Robert Berler, a member of the League's voters service committee. An offer to assist in the mailing of the booklet was made by the Junior Chamber of Commerce. Those who did not receive a copy may obtain one by calling Mrs. Berler at 4 Newman Road, Franklin Park.

ANNUAL VESPERS SET

Sunday to University Chapel. The fifth annual Reformation Vespers will be held Sunday at 4 P.M. in the University Chapel. Students and visitors from New York and Pennsylvania as well as from other parts of New Jersey will join Princetonians in celebration of the observance. As in the past, the service is being held under the auspices of the dean of the chapel, the Rev. Ernest Gordon, and is sponsored by the Concordia Society, Lutheran student group on the Princeton campus. The Rev. Dr. Richard Luecke, chaplain to the university's Lutheran students and pastor of Lutheran Church of the Messiah, will be officiant.

Guest preacher will be Professor Richard R. Caemmerer of Concordia Seminary, St. Louis, Mo., noted scholar of Reformation history. Topic of his sermon, which is being held in the chapel, will be "Justification and Grace." A highlight of the service will be children's choirs from congregations in Pennsylvania and New Jersey singing Ramiro Martinez, organist, will be officiating. The service will be held at 4 P.M. in the University Chapel. The Rev. Ernest Gordon, dean of the chapel, will be officiating. The service will be held at 4 P.M. in the University Chapel. The Rev. Wojtkowski to Direct. Edward L. Wojtkowski, who has conducted the musical portion of the Vespers since their inception five years ago, will again direct. Organist will be Charles Brown, who has done frequent concert work in New York and Philadelphia as well as Princeton and is now at the Eastman School of Music.

A reception for visiting students will be held at Murray-Dodge Hall following the services.

MR. EDDY RESIGNS

Accepts Post in Indiana. The Rev. William A. Eddy, Jr., has announced his resignation as Episcopal chaplain at Princeton University on the William A. Procter Foundation.

He has accepted the position of rector of Trinity Church, Bloomington, Ind., beginning January 1, 1941. His new post will call for a combination of parochial and campus responsibilities at Indiana University.

The Rev. Mr. Eddy has held his present position at the university since December, 1932. He previously served for three years as rector of Port Tobacco Parish, La Plata, Md.

A graduate of Princeton University, Class of 1922, the Rev. Mr. Eddy served in the Marine Corps during World War II. He was graduated from General Theological Seminary, New York, in 1940.

Married in 1942, he and Mrs. Eddy have five children. They are currently living at 53 University Place.

BULLETIN NOTES

The Rev. David H. McAlpin, Jr., assistant pastor of Witherspoon Presbyterian Church, will be guest speaker this Thursday at 8:15 p.m. at a meeting of the Women's Service League of Lutheran Church of the Messiah. His talk will deal with relations between different races and peoples in Princeton. The Rev. Dr. William A. Eddy, Jr., will be in charge of the service. Mrs. Roselle Chambers will preside, with Mrs. Esther Labaw and Mrs. Opal Schrader as hostesses.

The Women's Division of Princeton Jewish Center will hold a bake sale this Friday from 9 a.m. to 12 noon at Davidson's Market, 172 Nassau Street.

Bruce White, a senior at Princeton Theological Seminary, and his wife will be chaperones at a work-camp program to be held this weekend at Mercer Street Y. The Rev. Dr. William A. Eddy, Jr., will be in charge of the service. Mrs. Roselle Chambers will preside, with Mrs. Esther Labaw and Mrs. Opal Schrader as hostesses.

TRAVELING MEDICINES: Members of United Church Women of Princeton are packing home medical kits for distribution abroad in connection with observance of World Community Day, scheduled for this Friday at 1:30 p.m. at Witherspoon Presbyterian Church. Left to right, Mrs. Samuel Frathingham, Trinity Church, publicity chairman; Mrs. Orlan C. Hopper, First Presbyterian, president of United Church Women; and Mrs. Cyrus C. Young, Society of Friends, project chairman. (Staff Photo)

A covered dish supper will be served at 6:30 p.m. Friday in the Parish House of Plainsboro Presbyterian Church, followed by a congregational meeting at 7:30. Clifford Schell, chairman of the finance committee, will report, and a film, "An Epistle from the Koreans," will be shown.

Annual Election Day Bazaar of the Women's Organization of Plainsboro Presbyterian Church will be held next Tuesday in the Parish House, beginning at 12 noon. The bazaar will feature a "Country Store."

Dean Robert Nelson of Princeton Seminary will talk on "The Nashville Story" at the Family Night Supper of Second Presbyterian Church, to be held next Wednesday, November 9, at 8 p.m.

New Jersey Conference of the Methodist Church will launch a campaign for $2,100,000 at a Mobilization Meeting this Saturday afternoon and evening at Crescent Temple, Trenton. The money will be raised through intensive solicitation in local churches between January 8 and 22, 1961.

Obituaries

Paul Uken, 59, of 416 Nassau Street, died October 31 in Princeton Hospital. The owner of the hardware-store bearing his name, he was born in Russia and had lived in Princeton for 27 years. He had operated the store for 24 years.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Elaine Uken; two sons, Irvin Uken of Princeton and Arnold Uken, a student at Oberlin College; a daughter, Miss Frances Uken; a brother, Harry Uken of Trenton; and two sisters, Mrs. Sarah Ahlborn of Trenton and Mrs. Rose Kashner of Carteret.

Rabbi Aaron Kraus of the Jewish Center officiated at the funeral, held at the Kimble Funeral Home. Burial was in Beth Israel Cemetery, Woodbridge.

George R. Freela, 53, of 7 Shirley Court, died October 26. A veteran of World War I, he was a former chief at the Charter Club.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Olive Freela; two sons, Robert R. Freela Jr.; a brother, John Freela of Philadelphia; and three sisters, Mrs. Ida Walker of Morton, Pa., Mrs. Sally Cunningham of Peoria, Pa., and Mrs. Joyce Simmons of Philadelphia.

The funeral will be held this Thursday at 12:30 p.m. at the Mt. Pisgah A.M.E. Church, with the Rev. Yancy Sims, pastor, officiating. Charles W. Robinson Post 219, American Legion, will hold a service at 8 p.m. with the Witherspoon Lodge of Elks' service to take place at 8:30. Interment will be in Beverly National Cemetery.

Mrs. Angeline W. Fleming, 49, a former Princeton resident, died suddenly October 27 at French Hospital, New York City. The widow of Matthew C. Fleming, a charter trustee of Princeton University and a member of the class of 1886, she moved to New York in 1946. Mrs. Fleming was born in Cincinnati, and was a member of the board of managers of the Women's Exchange in New York.

Surviving are two sons, Matthew C. Fleming Jr. of Princeton, and William W. Fleming of Mont Vista, Colo.; five grandchildren; and two grand-grandchildren. The Rev. Robert R. Spears Jr., rector of Trinity Church, officiated at the funeral, held at the church. Interment was in Princeton Cemetery.

BE SURE YOU CAST YOUR VOTE FOR THE TEAM THAT HAS THE QUALIFICATIONS OUR NATION NEEDS IN THESE PERILOUS TIMES:

1. EXPERIENCE: Both Nixon and Lodge have long experience in two of the highest offices in our country: Nixon as Vice President handling every variety of national problem involving Congress, the executive agencies, the budget plus presiding over many Cabinet meetings and National Security Council sessions; Lodge, the American Ambassador to the United Nations for 7½ years, directing Free World strategy in the conflict with the Communist Bloc.

2. PROVEN FOES OF COMMUNISM: Early in his career, Dick Nixon established himself as militant enemy of The Communist Conspiracy when he brought Alger Hiss to justice and proved the existence of Red spies in the Truman administration. He never has and never will relent in his crusade to destroy this threat to our way of life. Ambassador Lodge has spent the last decade in successfully battling the Communist world at close quarters in the U.N.

3. SOUND MONETARY POLICIES: Nixon and Lodge know the importance of sound fiscal policies through years of service on Congressional committees and in the Cabinet where the financial health of the nation has been a daily concern. They back those policies that have given us a $500,000,000 economy with more Americans earning more, spending more, saving more and investing more than ever before in history.

4. SYMPATHY FOR THE COMMON MAN: Nixon, as a man who had to earn a living early in life, understands well the viewpoint of the working man. Lodge has earned a reputation in his native Massachusetts and in the U.S. Senate for his deep concern for the welfare of his fellow citizens.

OPEN LETTER

To the People of Princeton and Surrounding Communities from

NASSAU INTERIORS

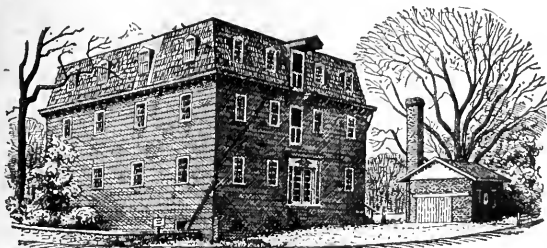

The Zoning Board of Princeton Township has given us permission to run a warehouse clearance sale from Monday, November 7, through Saturday, November 12, to liquidate our stock

This will give you a golden opportunity to purchase furniture and bedding at prices you will be pleased to see. COME SHOP AND SAVE!

The location is the Old Mill at the Kingston Bridge on Route 27 — the Princeton-Kingston Road. This mill is our warehouse, and at the moment, it is overstocked with furniture. We feature well-known brands such as Simmons, Willett, Paul McCobb, Founders, Hitchcock, Jamestown Table, Jamestown Lounge, Dillingham, Craftique, Dux, Selig and many others.

For this warehouse sale, we will have chairs, sofas, bedroom and dining room pieces, unpaired furniture, mattresses, Hide-A-Beds and occasional tables and lamps — all reduced so we can clear the warehouse. Many items will be priced below cost.

We must liquidate this stock of furniture during this sale, so come early and get a chance to save, save, save. We hope to see you at this sale.

ARE YOU AN EAGER BUYER?
I HAVE AN ANXIOUS OWNER!

This is one of the most charming Colonial homes I have ever seen. Architect-restored, this lovely brick home has a 32-foot living room with fireplace, gracious dining room with built-in cupboard, library with fireplace, powder room, large kitchen with eating area overlooking enclosed Williamsburg garden in back.

Up the curving stairway, you will find three spacious bedrooms, with room for a fourth bedroom if you desire. Large terrace. Tastefully decorated, perfect condition, many extras included. Located between Princeton and New Hope, you will never again find a buy such as this.

ELM RIDGE PARK

No wonder "Living for Young Home-makers" called this the "house of the year." A beamed, cathedral ceiling and glass window wall contribute to the spaciousness of the living-dining room. The ultra-modern kitchen boasts a must-to-have adjacent family room from which the housewife oversees daytime activity to and out-of-doors as sliding glass doors provide access to large patio. The family room and elegant entrance foyer, as well as providing access to living and dining areas, open also into the bedroom wing which contains three large bedrooms and two baths. Master bedroom, like living and family rooms, opens onto patio. Full basement, finished two-car garage, adequate storage and closet space are among the many extras you have to see to appreciate. On 1 1/4 acres that will abut on proposed lake. Excellent financing available.
